Wicks Denies He Was Offered Post

Tells of Files

Mrs. Helen M. Balog, supervisor of a State Department file room, tells Senate investigators in Washington that John Stewart Service was given access in 1948 to confidential files of U. S. foreign service personnel and spent many hours with them.

Senate Leader Says He's Not Thinking of Any Other Job Now

State Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks said today that the position of Collector of the Port of New York had not been offered to him.

This at least makes premature a report in the New York press that the senator is "being mentioned in high political circles for possible appointment by President Eisenhower as collector of customs of the Port of New York."

Job Not Offered

The senator, now at Albany, said today:

"The position of Collector of the Port of New York has not been offered to me, and I have, therefore, not considered it."

The senator said he is preoccupied with responsible duties in the state government in Albany and is "not thinking of any other job at this time."

The New York World Telegram and Sun said yesterday that the senator is "boomed" to succeed Harry V. Durning, Democrat, who retired Jan. 31, in the $12,800-a-year post. Durning served three months less than 20 years.

One Stumbling Block

One stumbling block, said the New York report, might be a move to put customs officials, as well as postmasters and U. S. marshals under civil service. Such a move failed last June, when a proposal by President Truman was defeated in the Senate.

The position of Collector of the Port of New York was held for many years prior to the Roosevelt administration by the late Philip Elting, who had also served many years as Ulster county Republican leader.

Must Have Faith

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today this nation's government must be based on a firm foundation of religious faith "or it makes no sense." Speaking at a prayer breakfast opening the annual meeting of the International Council of Christian Leadership, the President said that if we constantly remind ourselves of that principle "we can hold up our heads and be sure" that the country will be preserved. Some 500 persons attended the prayer meeting at the Mayflower Hotel.

Wants More Room

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP)—Too many night clubs and restaurants expect their customers to dance in "postage stamp" space, a Manhattan legislator contends. Democratic Assemblyman Daniel M. Kelly introduced a measure yesterday to require such establishments to make more room available for such activities. His formula: One square foot of dance-floor per person for one-half the capacity of the room. For a 300-person establishment, this would mean 150 square feet.

Matson Says Letter Gone

State Department Officer Says Suspect Was in Ecuador Embassy

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—A State Department security officer testified today that his report on a "suspected Communist" employed by the department disappeared from secret files.

John E. Matson, special agent in the department's division of security and investigation, was a witness before the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.).

McCarthy has charged that State Department files have been "looted" of derogatory information concerning some employes, including some under fire in his Communists-in-government fight.

Matson did not identify the employe concerned in the missing report, except to say the man was attached to the U. S. embassy in Ecuador.

Reports Other Missing Items

Matson told the senators that he had "on several occasions" found that documents were missing from the department's files. He named one of them as a letter written by Lawrence Duggan, a former State Department official who plunged to death from a New York city building window.

McCarthy, questioning Matson, termed Duggan's death "a suicide" and referred to the official as a man "who had been exposed—or was under fire as a possible Communist."

Duggan's death plunge was in December 1948. Congressional committees were digging at the time into charges of Communist infiltration of the government.

McCarthy, presiding at the inquiry, disclosed he has summoned Vladimir Toumanoff, a State Department official, as a witness in this second day of public hearings. But he declined to name "a security officer" he said will also testify, or to say who may be called first.

Examines Charges

The Senate Investigations Sub-Committee which McCarthy heads is examining his charges that the department has mishandled its files and discarded material derogatory to some employes.

The senators heard sworn testimony yesterday that a letter written by Owen Lattimore has disappeared mysteriously from one file, and that an official still not named once ordered a derogatory letter removed from another department worker's personnel file and burned.

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University lecturer, is a one time State Department consultant now facing trial on charges that he lied to a Senate committee when he denied Communist sympathies. Lattimore has insisted he told the truth.

Day and Night Access

McCarthy's group also heard testimony that John Stewart Service, since fired on grounds of questionable loyalty to the government, was allowed day and night access to the department's confidential files on foreign service personnel.

McCarthy said the inquiry is designed primarily "for the benefit of the new secretary of state," John Foster Dulles. McCarthy said he wants "the record to show Mr. Dulles what I have contended for so long, that the files can be and have been raped."

Yesterday's witness, Mrs. Helen B. Balog, testified she found "flags placed in the files" which might indicate that Robert Ryan, assistant chief of the Files Division and her superior officer, had removed some documents.

Agents Say Mealey Withheld $40,897

His Purchases Are Given Publicity—Sum Held 'Conservative'

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Federal tax agents said today Carroll E. Mealey failed to report $40,897 in income during the five years he headed the alcohol tax division of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Testifying before a House Ways and Means subcommittee investigating revenue practices, the agents related locating $92,094.96 in income during the 1946-51 period when Mealey's income returns totalled $51,196.99.

The agents, Martin L. Webb of St. Louis and Charles H. Malmesbury of Philadelphia, resumed the witness stand as House tax fraud investigators probed deeper into Mealey's financial affairs as a one-time top tax official.

Said Health Was Bad

Mealey resigned, giving reasons of ill health, in the fall of 1951.

The committee yesterday went into the purchase of a fur coat for Mrs. Mealey shortly after Mealey took office in 1946 and his later acquisition of an automobile and an expensive television set.

Committee Counsel John Tobin said the $40,897 listed in the testimony as unreported and unexplained income appeared to be "a very conservative figure."

The agents testified that the bulk of Mealey's expenditures under this heading appeared to have been in cash. The source of the cash could not be traced, they said.

Chairman Kean (R.-N. J.) observed that on the basis of the testimony Mealey's unreported income was "almost twice the income he reported."

Red China Warns U.S. Make Peace or Fight

Direct Challenge Made to President Eisenhower in Demand for Truce Talk Resumption

Tokyo, Feb. 5 (AP)—Red China Wednesday warned the U. S. to accept Communist terms for peace in Korea or face a fight to the finish along the bleak battle front.

In a direct challenge to U. S. President Eisenhower's new administration, Red Premier Chou En-Lai demanded unconditional resumption of truce talks at Panmunjom, an immediate cease-fire, and an 11-power political conference to settle the thorny question of war prisoners.

American officials in Washington and at the United Nations immediately rejected the broadcast threat as "old stuff." They said it was the same proposal advanced by Russia in the UN last December and voted down, 40-5.

These Are Conditions

These are the conditions laid down by Red China's No. 2 leader in a broadcast over Peiping radio:

1. "If the U. S. has the will and desire for peace in Korea she should unconditionally resume talks at Panmunjom."

2. Red China and North Korea "are ready for an immediate cease-fire on the basis of agreement already reached at Panmunjom."

3. "Thereafter we are prepared to discuss the question of prisoners of war at an 11-power political conference."

Chou Gives Challenge

Then Chou hurled this belligerent challenge at the Eisenhower administration:

"If the new American administration has no intention to do so and continues to adopt policies of the (former President) Truman administration in Korea and intends to further enlarge and extend the Korean war, we are thoroughly prepared to fight it out with the aggressors to the last."

Allied negotiators, fed up with 15 months of fruitless wrangling, walked out of the Panmunjom talks Oct. 8. They said they would return only if the Communists agreed to one of several UN proposals or came up with something new.

Resumption Demanded

The Reds repeatedly have demanded resumption of the talks, but always on the same old basis.

The Communists want back all of the 122,658 POWs held by the UN. The allies have agreed to send back only the 83,000 who have expressed a willingness to return to Red rule.

Chou's tirade was broadcast only in Chinese, indicating it was designed primarily for internal propaganda. Most of his talk, delivered to the First National Committee of the Chinese Peoples Consultative Conference, was devoted to Chinese domestic problems and called for total manpower mobilization.

Big Question of Formosa Is Role U. S. Would Assume

High Secrecy Reported Surrounding What Orders Might Be Given

By ELTON C. FAY
(AP Military Affairs Reporter)

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—What will the United States fleet and air force do if Chinese Communist planes attempt to strike at Formosa?

The question was sharpened today by the air of high secrecy the White House has thrown about the nature of any directive President Eisenhower has or will issue to put into effect his decision on the function of the 7th Fleet.

The President said in his State of the Union message Monday he was "issuing instructions that the 7th Fleet no longer be employed to shield Communist China." This rescinded that part of the original 1950 order by former President Truman neutralizing the situation between the Chinese Nationalists and the Communists by preventing either side from attacks. Truman's idea at the time was to keep Red China out of the Korean war. But they entered the war a few months later.

Command Is Advised

The 7th Fleet command was advised promptly of Eisenhower's pronouncement. A White House spokesman made it plain, however, that any detailed instructions by the President would not be disclosed.

Eisenhower's speech to Congress noted that the 1950 order was to "prevent attack upon Formosa" as well as to insure that no operations against the mainland were started from the Nationalist island.

So far as it known, there has

CIO Calls for End Of Controls Now

Reuther Writes President Saying WSB Has Virtually Died

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The CIO called for an immediate end of government wage controls amid reports that President Eisenhower will issue an executive order, probably before the end of the week decontrolling wages and some prices.

The CIO's president, Walter P. Reuther, wrote Eisenhower today saying that the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) has "virtually ceased to function" and said pay curbs should be dropped immediately.

Flemming Gives Hint

Government stabilization officials disclosed that they were informed at a conference with mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming Monday that Eisenhower planned a decontrol order before the end of the week.

Meanwhile, the White House declined again today to say when an order will be issued ending wage controls.

Stabilization officials said the present plan is to decontrol wages at one stroke, but to remove price controls in a series of steps in order to avoid any marketing disruptions.

Eisenhower told Congress Monday he plans to let wage-price controls die. Legal authority for imposing controls expires April 30 anyway but the President said he will take steps to wipe out controls in an orderly manner before then.

Reuther's statement pointed out that the approval applications for

Stevedores Shun Piers To Support Tug Strikers

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Longshoremen refused to go to work on the city's piers today, throwing their weight behind a strike of tugboat crewmen in a move that could paralyze the Port of New York.

Tugboat crewmen set up picket lines shortly after dawn. Longshoremen gathered nearby and stared at the picket lines, stamping their feet in the cold morning. When the shrill whistles of the bosses sounded at 8 a. m. the longshoremen did not move.

Both the tugboat crewmen and longshoremen are AFL union members, the AFL International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) is the controlling force in all stevedoring work in the world's biggest port. When they refuse to work, no freight moves.

The union counted on this double play to halt loading and unloading of ships and handling of passengers' baggage. The picket lines also were expected to close the vast pier area to trucks, driven by members of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Similar union tactics in other Atlantic coast ports were possible.

Up to today, the striking tugboat crewmen had refrained from picketing, and the longshoremen handled cargoes of the many ships docking and sailing without the usual aid of tugs.

The strike, which started Saturday midnight after collapse of contract negotiations on wages and other issues, also has impeded shipping at the ports of Philadelphia, Norfolk, Va., and Albany, N. Y.

The walkout of 3,500 tugboat union men here has idled 450 harbor craft, including power barges as well as tugboats. Smaller numbers are affected in the other struck ports.

ILA President Joseph P. Ryan has sent word to longshoremen that any ships diverted from struck areas to other ports are not be be handled.

A luxury liner and a freighter have crashed into piers here while docking without the aid of tugs.

The 34,183-ton Caronia rammed the Cunard Line pier in Manhattan last night. The liner sliced a V-shaped cut more than 30 feet through a 10-inch concrete platform. Edward F. Cavanagh, Jr., city commissioner of marine and aviation, estimated damage to the pier at more than $100,000.

Yesterday, the 6,535-ton freighter Extavia smashed into a Brook-

Thruway Project Is To End Rt. 28 Farms

Owners Hope to Get Hot-Bed Season Over Before Moving

New York State Thruway construction this year will mark the end of vegetable stands and sections of farmlands along the Onteora Trail (Route 28) but farmers in the area indicated today they will be able to complete hot-bed plantings at present locations.

First moves away from the planned route of the super highway began late last year, but other farmers, waiting out definite signs of action, postponed moving until this year.

A state source has indicated, meanwhile, that the first lettings of new contracts are expected about March 5 and 12. One of these, it was indicated, will be for the strip between Route 28 and Whiteport, and will include the building of a traffic interchange system, which will bring Route 28 over the thruway.

To Remain a While

Harry Britt, who has operated a farm on the north side of Route 28, less than a mile from the city, for many years, said he expects that the construction schedule will allow him to remain on the present site "until the latter part of April or first part of May."

Britt, however, has a house under construction on the Brabrant road, which swings in a circle from Route 28 near The Barn, to the Sawkill road, and he plans to use from 12 to 14 acres there for farming.

This is the month for start of hot-bed planting and Britt hopes to have his plants ready for transplanting before he is required to move, as does Vincent Maggiore, who operates the farm across the road.

The Maggiore family expects to move into a house, that was moved recently from Route 28 to the Sawkill road. They plan to move the present house and some barns now on the south side of Route 28, as soon as possible, but expect to continue farm operations on the present site through Spring.

To Move House

A house on the former Riggins farm is expected to be moved by March. This is nearer the strip from the Sawkill area to Route 28, which is now under construction.

The Boice, Modica and Serrano farms, west of Britt and Maggiore are also expected to be affected by either the western approach of the viaduct, which will bring Route 28 over the thruway, or by a service road to be built for the farmers in the area.

County Treasurer Horace Boice said it appears as the plans were explained to him, that part of the viaduct will be "right in front of my house," and two outside gas pumps of a service station on the property will be removed, or relocated. He has no plans to move the house, he said.

Western Approach

The western approach of the viaduct will start near the Serrano farm and the eastern end will be in the vicinity of where the Sawkill road intersects Route 28.

The John M. Walker farm, near that intersection, and the vegetable stand there will not be seriously affected, but a member of the Walker family said today that a gladiola field in the area will be taken. Gil's Garage property and a nearby house in the area will be affected.

New Breaks Occur In Holland Dikes; Death Toll 1,320

Major Rescue Drive Pushes Toward Island on Which 1,500 Are Isolated

Amsterdam, The Netherlands, Feb. 5 (AP)—The death toll in Holland's disastrous floods reached 1,320 today. This brought the total in the low countries and Britain to 1,880.

The Dutch figure fell short, however, of the approximately 2,000 deaths which reliable, but unconfirmed, reports say the surging flood waters have caused since the weekend.

And the end was not in sight. Four new breaks in the dike system of Schouwen-Duiveland island, in southwest Holland, posted a new peril for thousands of homeless flood victims stranded there.

As fleets of boats and small planes rushed to the rescue through waters and sleet and snow, a new storm bore down on the flood-battered Dutch coast.

Rescue Is Pushed

Another major rescue effort also was underway on stricken Goeree-Overflakkee island, where some 1,500 persons were marooned on a crumbling dike.

Schouwen-Duiveland already was four-fifths under water and some 5,000 of the island's 23,000 residents were not accounted for —many of them undoubtedly dead in their farmhouses.

High winds bearing down from the water-logged east coast of England threatened to hurl towering waves against the little kingdom's breached sea defenses on the fifth day of the Dutch "battle of the dikes." Weather forecasts chilled hopes with predictions that more snow and hail would accompany the storm.

The small army of workers toiling in the disaster area to remove thousands of stranded homeless to safety had won at least a brief respite when the morning high tide came and went before the new storm could reach the coast.

New Havoc Threatens

The sea's rising challenge threatened new havoc to ravaged Holland, Britain and Belgium. The death toll from weekend storms—Europe's worst flood and tide disaster since medieval days —already neared 2,000.

With thousands in Holland still in danger of drowning, exposure, or exhaustion, unofficial predictions were that the figure would go much higher. Some unofficial sources have forecast that deaths in The Netherlands alone will total more than 2,000.

The revised three-nation toll thus far, as compiled from official and reliable unofficial sources, mounted to 1,880. Holland counted 1,320, England 546 and Belgium 14.

Preview of Peril

Across the North Sea in eastern England, gale-whipped seas gave Dutchmen a preview of their new peril when high tides broke through hastily-patched dikes along the Lincolnshire coast and spread again through the empty streets of Mablethorpe and Sutton. These two towns were evacuated after the weekend storm.

Dutch officials ordered the hastily assembled armada of light craft to gather with utmost speed off the threatened Goeree-Over-

Local Solicitation Planned For Relief of Netherlands

At an enthusiastic meeting held last evening at city hall, plans were made by a voluntary citizens group to solicit individual cash contributions for the relief of disaster victims in Holland who have suffered serious damage through the recent floods. The open meeting had been called by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and was attended by 18 citizens.

The citizens committee was enthusiastic about the fund campaign, pointing out that Kingston had been founded by the Dutch and this is also an opportunity for the people of Kingston to show appreciation for the visit made by H. M. Queen Juliana to open the 300th anniversary celebration held last year.

The group will be known as the Kingston-Holland Relief Committee.

Jack Feye, who was born in Holland, was named general chairman. Feye started the movement to solicit funds immediately after the seriousness of the floods in Holland became known. He issued an appeal on his own behalf and even before the meeting for Wednesday evening had been called, donations had begun to come in to Feye. The first was a donation early Wednesday morn-

Atomic Aide Found Slain in New York

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—An aide to an atomic scientist was stabbed mysteriously to death with an icepick last night, but the scientist said today he doubted that the slaying had any connection with the atomic energy work.

The victim, James Doyle, about 55, was found in a hallway of a residential building with the pick still protruding from his heart.

He was employed as a clerk and helper to Dr. John B. Dunning, dean of the Columbia University School Engineering, at Columbia's Pupin Physics Laboratory.

Bridge Rule Hinders Bus

Vehicle Barred on 6-Ton Span Uses One Made for Four Tons

Posting the Legg's Mills highway bridge for a six-ton limit has created an unusual problem for the trustees of Ruby School District No. 3, Town of Ulster, who send the pupils of that district to Kingston schools by bus.

Transportation is provided under contract with the Acker Bus Lines and the school bus which is used for the transportation weighs six tons and 800 pounds unladen. Use of the bridge has been denied on the grounds the bus exceeds the posted capacity of the structure.

Limit Is Enforced

For several years the pupils of the district have been transported to Kingston over the bridge by bus, Trustee Richard Boice, said today. Recently the bridge was replanked and opened to traffic up to six tons. This limit is being rigidly enforced in order to prevent heavily laden vehicles coming down the new Thruway from using the bridge and officers are posted at the bridge 24 hours a day to control traffic which is maintained, on a one-way basis through use of traffic lights.

This week the operator of the bus was informed that he could not use the bridge with the present school bus, because it exceeded the posted capacity by 800 pounds.

Tuesday the driver, Harold Acker, discharged the pupils at

Push Planned By Minority On State PPR

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Legislature's Democrats served notice today they would force a floor showdown Monday on permanent personal registration for voters, in a move to put the ruling Republicans "on record."

Minority leaders, who at the opening of the session gave PPR top billing as a 1953 legislative goal, declared in a joint statement that they would move Monday to discharge their PPR bills from committees.

Sen. Francis J. Mahoney and Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan, the Legislature's minority chiefs, repeated earlier declarations that if the Republicans would send their own PPR bills to the floor, the Democrats would "support them fully."

In other legislative developments:

1. A State Labor Department Advisory Council renewed its campaign to extend the state's Unemployment Insurace Law to cover employers of three workers or less. The present law applies only to employers of four or more.

Would Ban Drugs

2. A bill to ban the purchase of barbiturate drugs without a prescription was introduced by a veteran GOP senator, Seymour Halpern of Queens. He said the "widespread use of barbiturates is more harmful than the use of narcotics, because well-meaning persons, not realizing the danger involved, gradually slip into the habit."

Mahoney and Bannigan made no secret that their PPR strategy was to challenge the GOP's overwhelming majority to declare themselves on the voting record.

They contended that the move would give civic groups supporting the legislation a chance for a

What, Asks Morrison, Is to Happen to Trade With Red China From Britain

London, Feb. 5 (AP)—A British Socialist leader today accused President Eisenhower of egging Chiang Kai-shek on to attack the Red China mainland and warned "there was a risk of spreading the (Korean) war."

Deputy Labor Party leader Herbert Morrison opened a major House of Commons debate by expressing apprehension that the sudden switch in American policy taking the wraps off the Chinese Nationalists might lead to "considerable consequences."

Citing the risks of Chiang attacking the China mainland, Morrison declared:

"Supposing he gets into difficulties, supposing he is defeated, supposing some of his troops are surrounded, supposing there is a naval action by Communist China against his troops in transit—what is the United States going to do then?"

Is U. S. to Participate?

"Is the United States going then actively to participate as the United States directly in warlike activities against the mainland of China or against Chinese naval forces?

"* * * there is a real risk that there might be major trouble between Communist mainland China and the forces of the United States."

Morrison emphasized:

"The government of the United States ought not to be under any illusion as to British public opinion about that situation if it arises.

"We should deplore it, we should not feel we could associate ourselves with it. We should think it had arisen from a mistaken policy on the part of the new President and his administration.

"We should certainly take the view that it would be wrong for British forces to be involved in those operations.

Asks About Shipping

"Supposing the forces of Chiang Kai-shek conduct a blockade against the Chinese mainland and interfere with British merchant shipping peacefully going about its business?

"I would like the foreign secretary (Anthony Eden) to inform us what Her Majesty's government would do. What does the royal navy do?

"We could not tolerate Chiang Kai-shek interfering with peaceful British shipping and that shipping would be entitled to the active protection of the royal navy."

He declared the American decision on Formosa "is hardly consistent with President Eisenhower's declaration that mutual security means mutual cooperation."

Morrison, who was foreign secretary in the former British Labor government, went on to say:

"It does seem to us that there could have been, that there was time for there to be, consultation about this action before it was actually decided upon and announced."

Uneasiness Reported

The debate got underway against a background of uneasiness—both among the people and in both major political parties in Parliament — over the sudden change in American Far East policy.

Morrison, who was deputy prime minister of the British Labor Government that recognized Red China, blamed the United States "profound emotional hatred of communism" for "leading them into courses which are somewhat exaggerated."

The Laborite Daily Herald accused Churchill today of withholding from his own foreign office for three weeks the news that President Eisenhower planned to quit using the U. S. Seventh Fleet to shield the China mainland from

June Haver, Movie Star, to Become Sister of Charity

Hollywood, Feb. 5 (AP)—Actress June Haver turned her back on Movieland's tinselled brilliance today for the prayerful life of a nun.

The 26-year-old blond dancing star whose salary rose to $3,500 a week but whose career also brought her personal tragedy, ended months of rumors about her intentions by issuing a poignant statement last night.

Without disclosing her whereabouts, nor where and when she will enter a convent, Miss Haver telephoned the statement to her studio and asked that it be distributed publicly. It said:

"To all my friends:

"Now that I am about to do something that some of you perhaps will find it difficult to understand, I have thought it well to make a public statement.

"I am going away to prepare myself, by several years of prayer and study, for something I have been contemplating for the past two years. I am determined to be a Sister of Charity, with the grace of God and the approval of His church, and to consecrate my life to the service of God in His sick and in His children.

To Work and Pray

"To do this will take more ability than I have. That is why I am going to prepare myself in a novitiate of work and prayer. If at the end of my two years of preparation, my religious superiors judge that I am able to do this, I shall consecrate myself by vow to this kind of life.

"As far as I am concerned, I know what I want to do. But what I want must also be what God wants. May His will be done.

"You, my friends who have helped me so well in the past, I know will continue to help me with prayer, that I may always be generous in the service of God."

Miss Haver sold her home in the Cheviot Hills section a year ago and recently auctioned her possessions, closed her apartment and moved in with her mother, Mrs. Marie Ottestad. She has terminated her nine-year association with 20th Century-Fox Studio, her most recent contract running to Feb. 20.

She finished her last picture, "The Girl Next Door," a musical comedy with Dan Dailey, last November and has done no movie work since. The picture is yet to be released.

Hoffman Quits Foundation Job

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman has resigned as president of the Ford Foundation and will return to the Studebaker Corp. as chairman of its board of directors.

Announcement of Hoffman's resignation was made yesterday by Henry Ford II.

Hoffman's home is in Pasadena, Calif. He quit the Foundation, it was announced, because the organization is transferring its executive office from Pasadena to New York. Hoffman was said to wish to continue living in Pasadena.

Hoffman became president of the half-billion dollar Foundation, devoted to scientific, educational and charitable expenditures for social needs in 1950.

The Foundation has not announced a successor to the 61-year-old Hoffman.

TILLSON

Tillson, Feb. 5—Louis Mertins, a resident of Tillson for many years, observed his 93rd birthday February 2. He still enjoys a daily stroll along the Tillson streets, where he has become a familiar figure to the people of the town.

Several school children have been absent from the Tillson school due to measles during the past few days.

The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Sportsmen's Association is scheduled for Friday evening, in the Tillson firehall, at 8 p. m.

Fire-Trap Burns

Hong Kong (AP)—Scores of fire-trap villages, which were plastered and pegged together as hordes of squatters poured out of the Communist-ruled mainland, are causing Hong Kong police and firemen a serious headache. Their troubles were magnified recently when one village in the hills near Kowloon burned as winds whipped through the pathetic shanties. The nearest fire hydrant was a quarter of a mile away. A thousand huts were destroyed.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Feb. 4—Miss Lucille Tysse left here last Wednesday for Holland, Mich., where she will resume her studies at Hope College. Her mother, Mrs. John W. Tysse, accompanied her to Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton were dinner guests Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watkins and family in Walden.

Mrs. Fred Bernard has been operated on at the Goshen Hospital and Mrs. Roy Denniston at the Kingston Hospital.

The consistory of the New Hurley Church held its monthly meeting at the church Monday night.

The Young Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Clifford Newkirk Saturday, Feb. 7, at 2:30 p. m.

There will be regular preaching services in the church Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 a. m. A Hammond electric organ will be placed in the church for demonstration for the next two Sundays, Feb. 8 and 15. The organ committee is anxious the entire congregation hear these organs.

Next Sunday, Feb. 8, the New Hurley young people are invited to meet with the young people of the Wallkill Reformed Church at 7:30 p. m. After the devotional service there will be a social hour and refreshments.

The Missionary Society will hold an all-day sewing meeting and luncheon at the home of Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker Thursday, Feb. 12. Mrs. Burton Ward will be program leader for the afternoon's discussion of the Mission in Africa.

A communicants' class for church membership will meet at the parsonage during the Sunday school hour beginning Sunday, Feb. 15. All young people who desire to unite with the church Sunday, April 5, are asked to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Anderson visited at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelder at Mettacahonts Wednesday.

Mary Lou Schoonmaker, who is a student at Syracuse University, College of Nursing, has been spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker.

Susanna Denniston, who has been spending a week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Denniston, returned to Cortland State College Sunday.

Mrs. Francis Garrison called on her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Park in Walden Monday afternoon.

The Rev. John W. Tysse and son, John Paul, attended a farewell party for the Rev. Cornelius Meyer and family at the Shawangunk Hall Sunday night.

They Meet Benson

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Agriculture Department employes are being invited to meet their new boss, Secretary Benson, on their own time. The department has worked out a schedule for employes to arrive at the department at 8:30 o'clock in the morning, half an hour before their work day begins, to be introduced to Benson.

Low Bid on Laundry

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Veterans Administration said yesterday that Humphreys and Harding of New York offered a low bid of $258,900 for construction of additions to a laundry building at the Veterans Hospital at Northport, N. Y.

Army Will Test New Combat Boot

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The army will soon test in Korea an improved combat boot.

As described yesterday by the quartermaster corps, the boot employs cellular synthetic rubber, impervious to water, in its insulating layers instead of the wool fleece and felt built into the boots now in use.

The army said preliminary tests showed distinct advantages in the new boot for wear under cold-wet conditions. The new footgear, weighing five pounds a pair, is 10 per cent lighter than the present boot.

Plastic Furniture

New York (AP)—Cabinets for television sets and refrigerators have been made of plastics for some time. Now living and bedroom furniture is being made of plastics with one-piece molded drawers. The plastic drawers have no seams and therefore, it is claimed, are easier to clean, and resist moisture, chemicals and heat better than wood.

Edison Employes Get Seven Per Cent Raise

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—A seven per cent average wage increase was negotiated last night for 25,000 employes of the Consolidated Edison system, amounting to seven million dollars in increased wage benefits.

In addition to the wage increase, which will average 13 cents an hour, the agreement between Consolidated Edison and the Utility Workers' Union of America, CIO, provided for the annual funding of three million dollars towards pension benefits with new special provisions for the widows of company employes.

The agreement, retroactive to Jan. 4, was announced after 15 weeks of negotiations, jointly by the company and union negotiaters.

Employes will receive an additional five cents an hour next July fifth, according to the agreement. Average hourly income on straight time was $1.91, but take-home pay, including premiums, averaged $2 an hour.

The balance scale for weighing is believed to have originated in pre-dynastic Egypt.

COOPERATE WITH C. OF C.

The lack of satisfactory industrial sites, which contain water, under pressure, and other necessary public services has been the most serious limiting factor in the establishment of new industries in Kingston, according to the Chamber of Commerce.

Another obstacle mentioned by the Industrial Committee of the Chamber is the competition given by other cities in their offers to prospective industries to locate in their cities. These inducements range from $50,000 to $100,000 to defray expenses of moving to these cities and also the granting of tax concessions in the form of low assessments.

In asking the cooperation of the citizens of the city, the local Chamber appeals for help and suggestions in solving these problems. The Chamber would like to know about all available sites at a fixed price, from five to fifty acres in size with level, non-problem land at which a public water supply, sewage disposal, power and transportation facilities are now available.

Suggestions as to the amount of financial help and in what form it should be offered in order to attract industries here also are wanted by the directors of the Chamber. However, it is pointed out, there is no use of talking about financial help if we don't have satisfactory sites with the necessary public services.

In order to pursue a worthwhile program, the Chamber of Commerce should have the views of all interested citizens of the city.

Adrian Kaplan, who recently was elected president of the Chamber, has been one of the most earnest and active members of the local organization. His abiding faith in the city's future and his resourcefulness in directing the local group should bring results in the year that lies ahead.

THE AVERAGE FAMILY PAYS

You can't eat taxes and you can't wear taxes.

But you must pay more for taxes than you do for food and clothing combined!

In 1951, total federal, state and local taxes, direct and hidden, came to $84,600,000,000. In the same year total food and clothing purchases added up to $81,000,000,000.

We have reached the point where the tax burden is the largest single item of expense to millions of American families. Many of us haven't yet realized this for the reason that a substantial part of all taxes are paid indirectly—that is, they are part of the price we pay for an automobile or a loaf of bread or a pair of shoes or a ticket to a show. But we pay the full bill just the same—whether the money is handed over directly to some tax-collecting agency, or whether it is concealed in the cost of goods and services.

It is generally believed that the danger point to a nation's strength and vigor is reached when taxes account for 25 per cent of the national income. Our taxes have left that figure far behind—about 33 per cent of the national income goes for taxes. And no one should be foolish enough to still believe that we can pay the tax bill by soaking the rich. If we took 100 per cent of the incomes of the rich it would pay the cost of government for only a few weeks out of the year.

You—the average man and woman—pay the tax bill. You will be the gainers if and when the cost of government is cut.

COSMOPOLITAN IKE

President Eisenhower is unusual in one particular respect. Rarely has any new President been a man of worldwide reputation before his election. Many have acquired this fame after assuming office. World War II made Eisenhower famous all over the world.

Some of our earliest Presidents, when the world was smaller, may have had this distinction. In the last 100 years, however, it has probably been true of only two, Grant and Hoover. Grant's war fame spread far outside our boundaries, and Hoover had become celebrated by his work in Belgian relief and the distribution of food in Europe after World War I.

'These Days'

FREEING FORMOSA

I have sometimes felt like a wheezing voice shrieking from a minaret, repeating over and over that if we forget China, we forget our own country. When Harry Truman and Dean Acheson gave to the Korean War the shameful twist of imprisoning Formosa and making Chiang Kai-shek helpless, I wrote article after article denouncing the betrayal not of China but of America.

When the Communist army of General Lin Piao was freed by our perfidy to march from South China to Manchuria, a distance of about 1,000 miles, I wrote the story and asked why Chiang Kai-shek was not being permitted to bomb that army. When these crack troops marched into Korea and faced General Douglas MacArthur with a new war, after he had actually won the war in Korea, the betrayal was complete.

It was not necessary to be a military strategist to recognize what was happening and to stand appalled before the betrayal of our sons who were being maimed and murdered by these errors. There has never been an explanation for the decision to stop Chiang from bombing the mainland of China. Before the Truman-Acheson decision had been made to imprison him on Formosa and to use the American Seventh Fleet to prevent him from bombing an army that was moving forward to kill our sons, Chiang was actually conducting a brilliant guerrilla war that was pinning down crack Chinese Communist troops in the South where they could do us no harm.

Up to the Korean War, it was the Marshall-Acheson policy to eliminate Chiang Kai-shek and to find a means of recognizing Soviet China. The final device hit upon was to have Soviet China recognized and seated in the United Nations by a majority vote. The United States did not propose to use its right of veto, but rather to submit to the will of the majority.

The British had already recognized Soviet China and were pledged to a policy of the elimination of Chiang Kai-shek. The State Department was seeking a way of coordinating American with British policy without violating American public opinion.

This policy was reversed on June 25, 1950, when the Korean War started. The United States assumed responsibility for the defense of Formosa, but with the proviso that Chiang Kai-shek would cease his raids on the mainland. In effect, it was the Chinese Communists and not the Chinese Nationalists who were being protected. Eisenhower has now said so.

In his statement on the subject, President Truman put it on a quid pro quo basis. The American Seventh Fleet would defend Formosa in return for which the Chinese Nationalists would cease all sea and air operations against the mainland. However, he said that the future status of Formosa must await the restoration of security in the Pacific, a peace settlement with Japan, or consideration by the United Nations. In a word, Chiang not only had his hands tied behind his back, but he was left hanging in the air.

The eventual elimination of Formosa remained a central point of the Marshall-Acheson policy pursued by President Truman. It was because General MacArthur rejected this policy that he was dismissed. In his letter to the Veterans of Foreign Wars (August 29, 1950) which so angered President Truman, he said:

"Formosa in the hands of such a hostile power could be compared to an unsinkable aircraft carrier and submarine tender ideally located to accomplish offensive strategy and at the same time checkmate defensive or counteroffensive operations by friendly forces based on Okinawa and the Philippines. . .

"Should Formosa fall and bases thereafter come into the hands of a potential enemy of the United States, the latter will have acquired an additional 'fleet' which will have been obtained and can be maintained at an incomparably lower cost than its equivalent in aircraft carriers and submarine tenders.

"Current estimates of air and submarine resources in the Far East indicate the capability of such a potential enemy to extend his forces southward and still maintain an imposing degree of military strength for employment elsewhere in the Pacific area."

This has always been true because the condition was made by geography and not by politics. Yet, in spite of our enormous American casualties, Truman and Acheson refused to recognize facts and proceeded with their fantastic program in Korea. Until they left office, this policy of imprisoning Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa and the eventual recognition of Soviet China remained American policy.

General Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, supported by such experts as General Douglas MacArthur, General Albert C. Wedemeyer, Admiral Leahy and Admiral Radford, have now reversed that policy and have freed Formosa from the bondage of enforced inactivity.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PRESERVING THE TEETH

When the dental profession began advising the public to see their dentist every six months, it was thought by some that this was selfish advice in that dentists were wanting more patients. As a matter of fact, even in those days most dentists had all the patients they had time to treat. Their whole object was that, knowing the value of normal teeth to the health of the individual, aside from any suffering caused by infected teeth, including crippling arthritis, they tried to save teeth, just as physicians try to preserve health by periodic health examinations and immunization against various diseases

In the Journal of the American Dental Association is recorded an experiment in dental disease control designed as a 10-year project, which has resulted in a striking improvement in dental health among children after only three years.

"The small farming village of Askov, Minn., in the east central part of the state, is the site of the community dental health program sponsored by the Minnesota State Dental Association, the Minnesota Department of Health, the U. S. Children's Bureau, and Askov.

Before the program started in January, 1945, the community had no dentist and had an unusually high rate of dental diseases attributed in part to a diet rich in pastries. The village is made up mostly of persons of Danish descent."

Dr. William A. Jordan, of Minneapolis, director of Minnesota Department of Health division of dental health, reported that the program has resulted in reductions of tooth decay, ranging from 41.6 per cent in the three-to-five age group to 8.4 per cent in the 13-to-17 age group, as compared with children in the nearby community of Hinckley, Minn., chosen as a "control."

What is the program that has brought about the above gratifying results?

The program, covering 350 children, includes intensive instruction in tooth brushing and diet, complete dental examinations, dental corrections and applications of sodium fluoride.

Dr. Jordan reported the cost of the program had dropped from $15,586, in 1949, to $6,927, in 1951, after most of the dental corrections were completed during the first two years of the program.

When we remember that infected teeth can cause prolonged pain and illness (rheumatism and arthritis) and also heart disease, it pays any community financially to follow out a program such as the above, aside from the suffering endured by their citizens.

Bird of Paradise

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—One of the most unusual facts about new Republican National Committee Chairman Wes Roberts is that he has met President Dwight Eisenhowere only five times, face to face, though both are from Kansas.

The first time was at Abilene, when Eisenhower came back from Europe. Next was at Denver, where Ike made his headquarters. Then at the Chicago convention, and once again, briefly, at Washington, when the presidential candidate came through during the campaign.

In December Mr. Roberts went to New York for a meeting with the President-elect. It was at this meeting that Eisenhower gave his blessing to the election of Roberts as national chairman. Why not? Every faction of the now-united party—Taftites, Deweyites and Eisenhowerites agreed he was the man for the job.

There is one other most unusual fact about Mr. Roberts. In an administration that is now characterized as eight millionaires and a plumber, Wes Roberts is one of the least wealthy men, and chairmen of political parties are traditionally big-money men.

He will get a handsome $32,500 annual salary plus expenses as GOP national chairman. But this will be the most money he ever made. And his modest assets are said to mark and to prove another of his greatest attributes. He is called that rarity among rarities—a completely honest politician.

Politics in Robert's Blood

But he is a politician. It's in his blood. He was born Dec. 14, 1903, at Oskaloosa, Kans. — the state from which political hell has always come. He was the youngest son of a country newspaper editor. It was an extremely religious family, and young Wes says he got his religion even on the handle of the Methodist Church pump organ.

He took journalism when he went to Kansas State. A dollar was hard to come in those days, and he made a few on the side writing for his dad's string of three weekly papers. After he left college, he became editor of one of them for a 10-year period.

Then he got into politics. His father had never been a Kansas regular, but Wes became identified as one of the young Turks. He backed Carl Friend against Gov. Al Schoppel, now U. S. senator from Kansas, and lost. In 1906 he was campaign manager for Will G. West in the gubernatorial race, and again he lost in the Roosevelt landslide.

For the next two years Wes Roberts served as executive secretary of the Kansas Republican Committee. In that time he built up the organization that hasn't suffered a defeat since.

He absorbed a lot of politics, he says, from Lacey Haines, now dead, a more or less legendary figure in Kansas politics. Roberts learned a lot of his "oil can" and harmony politics there. He went on to become assistant state chairman and secretary to Gov. Payne Ratner for two terms.

In 1943, Wes Roberts was commissioned a captain in the Marines' Intelligence. He rose to become a major in a Fourth Marine Air Wing bomber squadron which saw action at Tinian, Guam, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Discharged in 1946, he came back to Kansas—and politics. He did publicity for the state highway commission, and from 1947 to 1950 was state chairman. He managed Sen. Frank Carlson's successful campaign that year.

Campaigns to Grass Roots

The great mystery of the Wes Roberts career—if it is a mystery—is how a politician with only Kansas acquaintance could zoom to national prominence in a year. He isn't colorful. He has a soft voice. He lets people impose on him all the time. He is a good speech writer, but a poor speech maker.

"I never was in love with the sound of my own voice," he explains, and this again marks him as different from the usual run of politician.

The answer to his success is that he applies grass-roots, precinct-level, Kansas politics to every campaign. The delegates to the Chicago convention were mere voters to him. He learned who they all were, who they were for and where they could be reached.

Wes Roberts was married in 1929 to Ruth Patrick, a high school classmate in Oskaloosa. They have one son, Patrick, 16, a junior in high school at Holton, Kans., where the family has lived since the war.

But Mrs. Roberts seems to understand Mr. Roberts, and when there's politicking to be done, that comes first. Mrs. Roberts was in Washington for the inauguration, but she and Pat have now gone back to Kansas so the boy can finish the school year.

After that, the family will make a home in Washington and then, maybe, it will be possible to get Wes Roberts away from that telephone and out of that hotel room.

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, Feb. 5—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Janick are planning to build a new home on the site of their former factory. The factory, which was known as the Mount Pleasant Cutlery Company, burned in a flash fire several months ago. The Janick's 10-year-old son, David, has been elected president of the Onteora Central School's junior band.

Mrs. Barney Epstein, wife of the owner of the Chichester Wood Products Company and mother of Herbert J. Epstein of Mount Tremper, is reported seriously ill in a hospital in Boston, Mass.

Recent army recruits, Herman Hoffman and Roger Winne are stationed together at Fort Dix, N. J.

The Onteora Volunteer Fire Company met in the former Mount Tremper schoolhouse on Monday evening. Two new members, Jerry Klein and Frank O'Donnell, signed up at this meeting, bringing the total membership to 30. The firemen discussed possible building sites for the proposed firehouse in Mount Tremper, but no final decisions were made.

Game Protector Henry Bernstein has been taken ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Langenegger have been visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane, on Long Island since shortly before Christmas.

Several local parents attended the Cub Scout meeting in the Onteora School on Monday evening. It is expected that a Cub Scout pack will be formed for this area in the near future.

Because of the Grange dartball game at Plattekill on Wednesday night, the regular monthly meeting of the Community Association has been changed to Friday, Feb. 6, at 8 p. m. in the former schoolhouse.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Feb. 5, 1933—An unoccupied house on the farm of Harold V. Story at Ulster Park was destroyed by fire.

C. Arthur Dolson, who had conducted a paint store on Broadway, died at his home.

The Sewing Circle of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church observed its 25th anniversary.

Miss Caroline Kruiger, of Wilbur avenue, and Frederick I. Schumann, of Eddyville, were married at Port Ewen.

Charles Ackerman, of Esopus, died.

Feb. 5, 1943—The Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, was preparing for a mobile blood bank unit to visit here.

The Saugerties draft board was scheduled to send 94 men to an induction center Feb. 10.

George Andrew Kinsey, 74, died at Phoenicia.

The Kingston High School basketball team defeated Saugerties, 53-42.

Eisenhower Regards Women on Basis of Equality With Men in Granting Appointments

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 5 — Women played such a useful role in winning the last election that President Eisenhower is deeply appreciative of their work. He is trying to show that appreciation in his selection of women to important government posts. But his rule is that he doesn't appoint a woman just because she was active in the campaign, nor does he pick out particular posts that he thinks women should fill.

The President's idea is to regard women on a basis of equality with men so far as government service goes, using the criterion only of ability, training and experience.

In a few days Mr. Eisenhower is expected to send to the Senate the nomination of Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce to be the American ambassador to Italy. The Italian government has already been advised in advance, as is customary, and has replied that it will be glad to welcome Mrs. Luce as ambassador.

Some of the pro-Communist newspapers in Italy have taken occasion, however, to disparage the appointment of any woman to the post. This is understandable because, while women are held up as equals in Soviet Russia, its mischief-makers abroad utilize any opportunity to stir up friction with any pretext that suits their purpose.

It so happens that Mrs. Luce has been active in the anti-Communist movement in America, and it is not surprising that Communist factions in Italy should be criticizing the proposed appointment. But, in a broader sense, the criticism is not so much against Mrs. Luce as it is against the appointment of a woman to the ambassdorship in Italy. There still prevails in some quarters the theory that women are not entitled to high posts. In the Italian Parliament, however, there are women members and recently a woman was appointed undersecretary in one of the major departments of the Italian government.

Mrs. Luce was recently a member of the House of Representatives from Connecticut and served with distinction on the Military Affairs Committee. She has gone abroad on various governmental surveys for congressional committees and is one of the best-informed persons in this country on international affairs. She is an excellent administrator and, as head of the American Embassy in Rome, would have a sizable number of persons to direct.

What the Italian government wants, of course, as do most countries, is an ambassador who has the ear of the chief executive. Mrs. Luce and her husband, Henry Luce, who is the president of the Time-Life organization, are close friends of President Eisenhower. It is reported that Mr. Luce is planning to spend a good deal of time abroad directing his business affairs from the Rome office of his publications.

This will not be the first time that a woman has been appointed to an important diplomatic post. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman served as American minister to Norway by appointment of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Eugenie Anderson was appointed to Denmark by President Truman.

Incidentally, the American Embassy in Rome is in no way concerned with matters at the Vatican. President Truman two years ago requested that an ambassador be appointed to the Holy See. The Vatican itself does not conduct any diplomatic relationship with any of the regular embassies or legations in Rome. The question of whether a minister, instead of an ambassador, will some day be appointed to the Vatican is related to whether Congress passes a law authorizing this move. There is no sign that President Eisenhower has any such plan at the moment.

When Mrs. Luce is appointed and confirmed and takes up the post of American ambassador to Italy, she would not be permitted under State Department rules to discuss any matters with the Vatican, and it is not likely that the Vatican would break its rule of non-recognition of the American Embassy. If the Vatican has anything informal to take up with the United States, it depends on the Apostolic Legation in Washington, but there is no recognition of that legation here in the Department of State or the White House.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Soon after President Eisenhower took the oath, General Tooey Spaatz, who had been with him throughout the war, said Ike might need a few months to adjust himself to his job but that given a little time he would take charge completely. Those of us who were Taft Republicans and had viewed with distrust the swarming of Roosevelt and Truman Democrats to Ike's side in New York were not reassured by his inaugural speech. Republicans of my stripe detected the hand of a journeyman editorial writer in this text and were disappointed in its insubstantial generalities.

In Ike's message on the state of the union, however, I find proof that our new President already has become his own man and is proceeding quickly to carry out the ideas which he expounded to a number of visitors at his SHAPE headquarters outside Paris last winter. It was a declaration of independence or repudiation of Roosevelt, Truman and as much of the New Deal as may be wiped out.

The monstrosity called Social Security appears to be imbedded in Ike's program. As a system of pensions for citizens too old to continue at work it has superficial virtues although most members of Congress and almost all government employes show their contempt for it by their cautious arrangements to provide themselves with much more generous pensions.

Unions, also, and the executives of large business have thought up ingenious systems to create higher pensions for themselves. The pensioner who relies solely on the Social Security dole is the underprivileged character in this deal. But Social Security is much more than that and President Ike may not yet understand that this bureau is a device to direct streams of free federal government money into the states which have mismanaged their own fiscal affairs and refuse to use their own credit to the full before crying for government handouts.

The President may have had this phase of Social Security in mind when he conjured state and local governments and "interested groups of citizens" to restrain their demands on Congress for federal money. We may hope he did. The terrible waste of other people's money on unemployment doles in New York is an example. There are literally thousands of professional loafers thoroughly versed in intricacies of the relief and unemployment rackets. No political party has had the integrity to attack the system for fear of losing the votes of the least useful and virtuous citizens. This is all of a piece with Social Security. The psychology is debilitating, for the effect is that inferior people are allowed to reject proferred jobs as beneath their dignity and live almost indefinitely at the expense of better citizens who work unremittingly. This is a relic of the New Deal which should be abolished but may never be.

However, on the strength of his other clear-sighted and courageous statements in the message, it seems possible that Ike will educate himself in the unseen phases of social security and use his influence to wipe out the portions which are obviously bad.

Nothing in his campaign speeches had prepared me for the brave, uncompromising repudiation of the Yalta and Potsdam deals with Russia. This meant repudiation of Franklin D. Roosevelt's most spectacular failure, whether crime or error, and of Truman's guilt in appeasing Stalin in Potsdam when he was fully on warning that Stalin was no friend but an enemy. This repudiation seems to imply a promise that Ike will faithfully refrain from presuming to commit this nation to important responsbilities by his personal, whimsical action, without reference to Congress. That would further imply that we are through with Roosevelt's "take a law" attitude toward Congress and, of course, with Truman's degrading attacks on the legislature as an aggregation of rogues.

It is almost an assurance that we will have neither a Harry Hopkins nor a David K. Niles in the White House henceforth, although Ike, unfortunately, is susceptible to the hustler's approach. In this respect, on his performances to date he seems fated to suffer some bitter disappointments in men. In New York he found that he had been victimized with three office-hands who were scandalously unfit to enjoy his confidence. They were thrown out, but we do not know whether the person or persons who planted them on Ike went out, too.

In France last winter, Ike's statement of his ideas regarding labor unions was very encouraging to one who has never lost sight of the fact that these organizations had far outgrown their legitimate size and exceeded their legitimate functions. He also perceived that the intrusion of government into scraps between unions and employers, many of them artificial quarrels engineered by union bosses, was bad for all

Surprised at Response

Feb. 5, 1953

Editor, The Freeman

Since my letter appeared in Monday's paper concerning the school situation, I have been surprised at the response received.

It has been impossible to talk to everyone interested as my line has been busy constantly.

As I am very concerned about this I would appreciate those wishing to discuss this to keep trying either by calling 6204 or dropping a card to me at RFD 1, Box 11½, Kingston, expressing your opinion or problem.

Signed,

MRS. ROBERT ROCKWELL.

Prosecution Ends Hornbeck Case

Following completion of the jury Wednesday in county court where the indictment charging Lincoln Hornbeck with sodomy, second degree, had been moved for trial, District Attorney Howard C. St. John opened the prosecution and when court recessed at 4:30 o'clock for the day the prosecution had concluded its case. Court recessed until 9:30 o'clock today when the defense was taken up.

Eleven women and one man were finally accepted on the jury and the alternate juror is also a woman.

District Attorney St. John and Assistant District Attorney James Abernethy appear for The People and Harry Gold appears for Hornbeck, who resides in Stone Ridge.

Jurors not on the case have been excused until Monday when criminal matters will be continued and a calendar of civil matters will also be called.

Ben Ames Williams Is Heart Victim

Brookline, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—Ben Ames Williams, 63, author of more than 400 short stories and about 40 books, died of a heart attack on the Country Club rink last night while participating in the old Scottish game of curling.

He was stricken and fell to the ice just as he had shot his last stone toward the mark. He died before medical aid could be summoned.

Williams got his start as a writer by working six years as a reporter for the Boston American after his graduation from Dartmouth College in 1910.

Williams wrote 82 short stories before he sold his first one, "Wings of Lias," for $50 in 1914. Two years later, he gave up his newspaper job to devote full time to writing.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail beef prices continued their weeks-long decline in many stores this week with reductions ranging from four to as much as 10 cents a pound.

Steaks, roasts, ground beef and other items were selling in some places at lower prices than those in effect when the Korean war broke out in June of 1950.

However, several large chains which had announced sharp cuts last week held their beef prices unchanged this week and reported signs at the wholesale level that the downtrend was levelling off.

Other meat and poultry prices, after edging lower recently under competitive pressure from declining beef, were narrowly irregular.

Lamb, Pork Down

Legs of lamb and pork loins were down a few cents a pound here and there but these reductions appeared to be mostly the result of temporary special pricing to lure customers with a variety of week-end shopping features. Some pork items and frying chickens worked a little higher.

Eggs were down 1 to 4 cents a dozen in most markets but dealers said a firmer trend at wholesale probably foreshadowed a retail advance by the end of the week.

Price movements in fresh fruits and vegetables were small. Snap beans, broccoli, endive, peas, peppers and potatoes were mostly a little lower, while celery, cucumbers, lettuce, spinach and best tomatoes averaged higher. Oranges, grapes and pears cost slightly more in many stores, lemons and grapefruit a little less than last week.

Warns Against Pessimism

Agriculture Secretary Benson, in a formal statement this week, advised cattlemen to avoid "unwarranted pessimism" about the drop in cattle prices (which have declined around 30 per cent in the past year) and urged them to stop dumping cattle on the market. He said the national economy is fundamentally strong, that employment and incomes are higher than ever before.

"This promises more stability to cattle prices, particularly since reductions due this year in the supply of pork will bolster the market for cattle," he said.

A market analyst of the National Live Stock Producers Association, H. M. Conway, noted that the drouth in the southwest had forced many cows and feeder cattle off the range and into market channels prematurely—which means the net meat tonnage will be much lower than if these animals had been fattened to customary market weights. Also, Conway said, much of the beef increase will be offset by a decline in pork and lamb production.

May Have Run Course

"All things considered, we think the sharp decline in retail beef prices may well have just about run its course," said the eastern sales manager for a large national retail chain. "Some of our beef cuts are priced as much as 15 per cent below the pre-Korean level. They're down as low as the market justifies, costs being what they are."

A large retail meat dealer said: "We're looking for an upturn before long. If our beef sales lately are any indication, the beef surplus in distribution channels is being worked down fast. This looks like a good time to stock up on beef if you're a beef-eater and have a freezer."

The Agriculture Department stressed cabbage and cheese as most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week. It noted that winter cabbage production this year is expected to exceed 357,000 tons—15 per cent above last winter's crop. Cold storage stocks of American cheddar cheese at the beginning of this year totaled 204 million pounds—a record high for the date—and other types of cheese brought the cold storage figure to nearly 237 million pounds.

Farmers Get U. S. Aid

Manila (AP)—The U. S. Mutual Security Agency has signed two agreements with a Philippine government agency which make available two million dollars for loans to farmers. Two MSA reports dealing with land tenure and rural conditions in the Philippines have urged sweeping reforms including crop loans at reasonable rates of interest.

Mortality Rate Drops

Taipeh, Formosa (AP)—The mortality rate on Formosa Island, Nationalist China stronghold, in the first six months of 1952 was the lowest in 50 years, says Yen Chun-Hui, commissioner of health. He reports the deaths at 9.98 per 1,000 population.

Why We Say--

. . . Newspaper name

Few words can be traced to an exact birth. But telegram is one that can. The word was first suggested in the old Albany Journal on April 6, 1825. It replaced the cumbersome name "Telegraphic dispatch" which plagued newspaper editors looking for something short to fit in headlines. The name immediately caught on everywhere.

Honor System Works

Toronto, Ont. (AP)—J. A. Reynolds, who operates a seven-cabin tourist establishment at Kincardine, is a believer in the honesty of his fellow man. He stocked $94 worth of food in an unsupervised kitchen, merely asking users to make out a chit for whatever was used so the amount could be added to the bill. In two months time 80 persons used $67 worth of goods, leaving $27 worth on the shelves in a perfect accounting, reports an Ontario government service publication.

Raise Is Granted Shipyard Workers

The Wage Stabilization Board has approved a pay hike from 18 to 20 cents an hour for the approximately 600 workers at three local shipyards.

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for the Kingston Metal Trades Council (AFL), which represents the shipyard employes, said he was notified Wednesday afternoon of the WSB approval, which is retroactive to Oct. 5.

Three Yards Included

The three shipyards included in the order are Hiltebrant Dry Dock Co., Island Dock, Inc. and Feeney's.

The retroactive pay to be distributed by the three yards in accordance with the terms of the WSB agreement will total between $75,000 and $80,000 Yerry estimated.

The new weekly rates going into effect Monday will mean an increase of about $4,000 per week in the combined payrolls of the three yards.

The agreement as approved sets a top minimum for mechanics at $1.90 an hour, with corresponding increases in other classifications.

Ellenville Man Cleared Of Gun Charge in N. Y.

New York, Feb. 4 (Special)—David Davis, 24, of Ellenville, a gun dealer, was cleared of a charge of violating the Sullivan law when Magistrate John F. X. Masterson today dismissed the case because of insufficient evidence.

Davis was arrested on January 19 in a car parked near 68 Lexington avenue by Detective Frank Leonard of the 13th Squad. The officer was attracted to the car when a gun located in the trunk compartment of the vehicle reportedly went off accidentally. The officer said that, upon investigating the incident, he found a .38 calibre Smith and Wesson, a .45 calibre Colt, and a Belgian automatic pistol in a bag in the trunk of Davis' car.

Olive Unit

The Olive unit of the Home Bureau will meet on Tuesday, Feb. 11, in the West Shokan town garage. Mrs. Freda John will lead the discussion on Family Life, during the morning session; and Mrs. Edna Bishop, on weight control, in the afternoon.

Brooklyn Sailor—Whudya do before ya jerned da Navy?

Mid-Westerner—I worked in Des Moines.

Brooklyn Sailor—What kind of moines, iron or coal?

A single girl came into her office and passed out cigars and candy both with blue ribbons. Somewhat puzzled, her coworkers asked the occasion. Proudly she displayed a solitare on her left hand and announced: "It's a boy — six feet tall and 185 pounds."

The coach put up a notice for the first football practice of the season, and one of the fellows who turned out was so fast on his feet that he made the other runners look like so many turtles. The coach called him over to the bench and asked him how he had learned to run so fast.

Boy—We used to live in Texas, and I used to catch jack rabbits on my father's ranch.

Coach—That's an oldie. A lot of fellows here say the same thing, but they're not so fast as you.

Boy—Well, my dad was pretty fussy about the rabbits he ate. I not only had to chase 'em, I had to run alongside of them and feel them to see if they were fat enough for Dad before I caught 'em.

Why worry because your hair is falling out? Suppose it ached and you had to have it pulled, like your teeth?

Businessman—There are millions of ways to get rich in the business world, but only one honest way.

Banker—What's that one?

Businessman—I don't know.

Smart—Do you think I'll make the grade?

Aleck—Yes. Remind me to send you a pamphlet on reform schools—a brochure!

Will Outdo Man

Chicago (AP)—Dr. E. W. Engstrom, electronics scientist, foresees the day when "man will create electronic systems that can sense, react, interpret, compute, act and control with such speed and with such all-inclusive comprehension that they will outstrip man." Dr. Engstrom is vice president in charge of the RCA laboratories at Princeton, N. J.

New White Dye

New York (AP)—A pure white dye has been developed for the first time, reports the British Information Service here. It has an action different from that of chlorine bleach or other usual whitening agents. Made by a London firm, the product also brightens colored fabrics, particularly pastel shades, without removing the color, according to the report.

Financial and Commercial

By RADER WINGET

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—A decline without emphasis carried the stock market down slightly today.

As prices backed away there were several buying flurries, especially in the movie group, that provided strong spots of resistance.

The fall extended down to around a point at the worst. With few exceptions the gains were fractional.

Motion picture and theatre issues started off with a rush that carried them up materially. The lure is the new vogue for three-dimensional films with both the picture companies and the theatre chains getting into the act.

Lower stocks included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, Philco, Anaconda Copper, Homestake Mining, Union Carbide, American Can, Southern Pacific, Texas Co., Paramount Pictures, 20th Century Fox, and U. S. Gypsum.

Higher were Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Distillers Corp., Dow Chemical, Philip Morris, Emerson Radio, and Union Pacific.

United Paramount Theatres was higher along with American Broadcasting Company as reports circulated that the Federal Communications Commission was expected to make a decision on merger of the two companies within a short time.

Bristol-Myers, which fell 2½ yesterday after directors cut back the dividend, was quietly steady today.

Another Mishap On Same Curve

Little Falls, Feb. 5 (AP)—A tractor-trailer crashed into a house today at the same curve where a gasoline tank-truck overturned last week and started a fire that burned seven houses.

As was the case last time, no one was injured.

Floyd G. Shampine of Philadelphia, Jefferson county, driver of the tractor-trailer, was arrested on a charge of speeding. He pleaded innocent and was freed in $15 bail pending a hearing Feb. 11.

The foundation and one side of the house, owned by Steven Dlhy, were damaged. The front of the truck also was damaged extensively.

Shampine said the truck, carrying motor oil, went out of control. Police quoted him as saying he was traveling 40 miles an hour. The speed limit is 25.

Last Wednesday, the gasoline tanker skidded on ice, struck a tree and exploded. The tree since has been removed, so there was nothing to prevent the truck from hitting the house, across the way from those that were burned last week.

Mayor Willard Topper has asked the state to eliminate the curve, which is at the foot of a hill on Route 5. He also has asked interested residents to attend a meeting tomorrow.

Nevada contains more than 400 acres per present inhabitant; Wyoming has 237 per person and Montana about 180.

To Use New Index

Detroit, Feb. 5 (AP)—Walter Reuther says his big CIO United Auto Workers Union will press the fight to hitch auto industry wages to the government's new—not the old—cost of living index. And the old index, he says, still is unacceptable under industry-UAW contracts, despite its recent revival by the Eisenhower administration.

Prefer $150 Raise

Utica, Feb. 5 (AP)—Firemen and policemen in Utica have voted to accept $150-per-year salary increases in preference to a shorter work week. The city had given them the choice. First-grade firemen and policemen will get $3,450 a year under the new schedule.

NO BUNK, IT'S BIGGEST BUNKER—G.I.'s cast admiring glances at what is said to be the biggest bunker in Korea. Constructed of 22,000 sandbags, the bunker took two months to build, and now houses a command post.

Dulles Asks End Of Old Rivalries

Bonn, Germany, Feb. 5 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today called upon continental Europe to put away its "old dangerous rivalries" and join quickly in armed union to "provide the indispensible cornerstone of a strong Atlantic community."

The secretary and Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen flew here from London, where they reportedly left behind a warning to British leaders that concrete progress must be made within 75 days toward creating a European defense army including German troops or America may reduce its aid program.

Conferences Held

After a brief preliminary meeting with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, they swung into a series of conferences with German and allied leaders which will virtually fill their 21-hour stay here.

Dulles read a brief formal statement to the press after his first chat with Adenauer. He praised the 77-year-old chancellor as "one of the great postwar statesmen who has the vision to move forward and realize the possibilities of the future."

Dulles said he and Stassen were making this fact-finding tour of the six-nations which have signed the treaty to create a European defense army because "we believe these countries stand on the threshold of a great revolutionary change which will supplant national rivalries with unity."

Fluoridation Begins

Schenectady, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—Fluoridation of Schenectady's water supply began today. City Manager Morris M. Cohn said a minimum dose of sodium fluoride would be added to the water at first. If the city health and water departments certify that the test is satisfactory, he said, the percentage will be increased to the full amount. Some scientists say that treatment of drinking water with sodium fluoride lessens tooth decay. Several cities in the state have begun the treatment. Others have questioned the value.

Dies in Plunge

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Joseph F. Shea, 59-year-old stereotyper employed for 20 years by the King Features Syndicate, was killed shortly after 9 a. m. today when he fell or jumped from an upper story of the New York Mirror building at 235 East 45th street, his body landing in a rear courtyard near 46th street.

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Carl C. Maisenhelder, who passed away February 5, 1951 at Albany, N. Y.
I do not need a special day,
To bring you to my mind.
Your name is whispered in my prayers,
Your face before me shines.
My heart still aches with loneliness,
My eyes shed many a tear.
Be happy with the angels, for I know that you are near.

Always remembered,
EMILY.

Allied Planes Hit Supply Ship and Blast Red Routes

Seoul, Feb. 5 (AP)—Allied warplanes attacked a 5,000-ton Communist ship at Cinnampo on the Korean west coast today and blasted Red supply routes and frontline positions, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

An F-80 Shooting Star jet pilot reported he scored two direct bomb hits on the Red vessel, ice bound in the harbor. Cinnampo is the port for the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Allied pilots scored regularly against small Communist boats and junks off both Korean coasts. The 5,000-ton, single-stack vessel was described by the air force as the biggest target.

Deadly U. S. Sabre jets patrolled MIG alley in far northwest Korea but failed to contact any Communist MIGS.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported only light patrol activity, along the frozen, 153-mile battlefront.

Allied troops forced back six small Red probes last night and early today. The Communists fired a few rockets in one jab at an Allied advance position east of Panmunjom on the western front.

Sharpest Skirmishes

Sharpest patrol skirmishing was reported on the banks of the ice-choked Man river on the eastern front, where two units of the recently activated south Korean 25th Division killed 14 North Koreans.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander, announced that Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor will take over command of the U. S. Eighth Army next Wednesday.

Taylor is touring South Korea with Gen. James A. Van Fleet, retiring UN field commander.

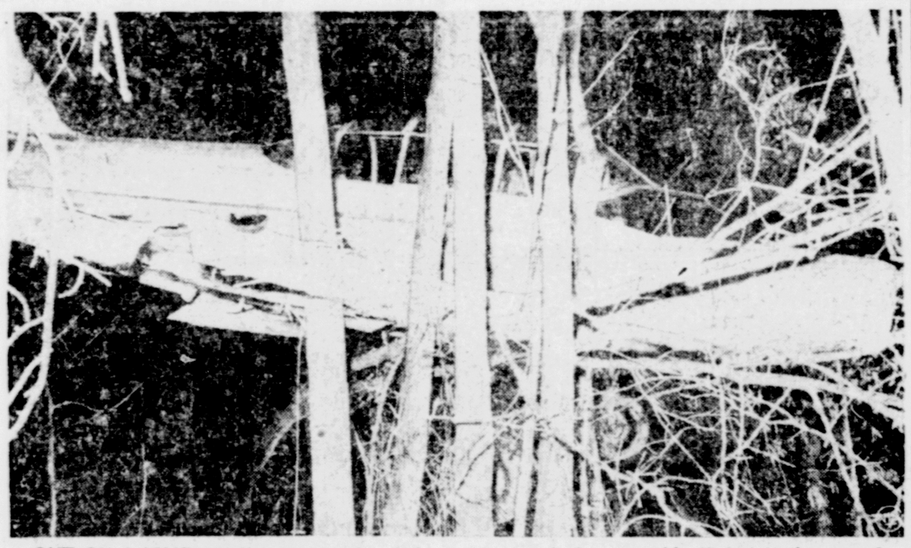
WAR AND PEACE IN INDO-CHINA—The ornate cathedral in the Catholic town of Bui Chu, Indo-China, forms a peaceful background for French Viet Nam troops marching in to flush out Viet Minh Communist forces hidden in the town.

JUST IN CASE—Members of London's civil defense organization observe a simulated atom bomb explosion, which supposedly occurred over Clapham Common. The "bomb" was flash powder, and the "Common" was one portion of a 60-foot floor map, studded with representations of the city.



OUT ON A LIMB—William Coile, pilot, and a companion, had to scramble 15 feet to the ground after crash-landing their light plane in treetops at Afton, Mo. Coile said he was blinded by the sun when attempting to land in a field after engine trouble developed. Neither man was hurt.

Flu, Pneumonia Deaths Reported

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Public Health Service said today there were 463 deaths from influenza and pneumonia in 58 reporting cities in the week ended Jan. 24. This was about 50 per cent more than in the corresponding week last year.

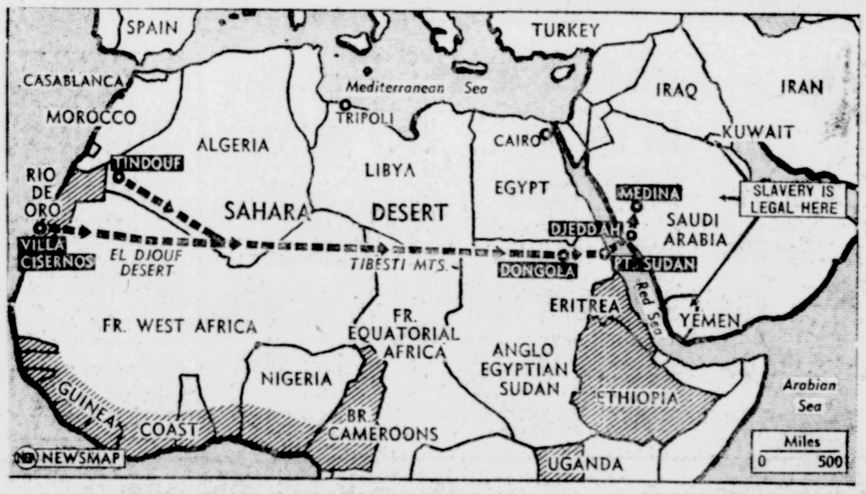
It was noted, however, that influenza did not become epidemic last year until February. The current widespread outbreak of influenza has prevailed for several weeks.

The 463 deaths in the 58 cities compared with 404 for the previous week, an increase of 15 per cent. It was the second straight weekly increase of 15 per cent.

The army, air force and navy all reported that as of last week the incidence of respiratory disease appeared to be declining in nearly all establishments in which it had been high.

Progress Is Reported

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Progress was reported today in efforts to settle the strike which has crippled truck deliveries of newspapers in the metropolitan suburban area. Negotiators for the wholesale delivery employers accepted, and negotiators for the 600 strikers agreed to consider, a proposal made by mediators, according to separate announcements.



UN AIRS AFRICAN SLAVE CHARGES—The British government is investigating charges that her African protectorates are shipping some 5000 Negroes each month for sale in the slave markets of Saudi Arabia and Yemen. The charges, originating with Jacques Alain, self-styled African explorer, were forwarded by the UN Commission on Human Rights. Newsmap shows how the trade operates, according to Alain. He says slavers raid villages on the fringes of the Sahara and the central African jungles. Victims, chained, are marched to the Red Sea and shipped to Saudi Arabia, for distribution. Diagonally shaded areas on map show main areas where slave traders operate. Broken line shows route taken by slave caravans.

Plantation Musical Slated Next Week

Plantation Jubilee, a stage production on the order of a minstrel show featuring songs, dialogues and spirituals, will be presented by the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church in Bethany Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Feb. 10 and 11. Curtain time will be 8:15 p. m.

The cast and program for the show were announced today by Joseph Flowers, director.

The first part will open with the singing of Dixie by the entire group, with George Kernochan as Old Black Joe. Individual numbers will be rendered by Raymond Myers, Nancy Goble and Gloria Simmons, Joseph Flowers, Faye Horne and June Crosby, Barbara Decker, James Little, Roger Rinschler and Joan and Fred Senft, DeWitt Wells, Margaret Danford, Charles Rinschler, Ethel Hornbeck, Jack Hill, Donald Romme, Warren Simmons.

Will Play Leads

Leading roles in the first part will be portrayed by Ethel Hornbeck as Mammy and Donald Romme as Pappy. The four plantation busy bodies will be Joseph Flowers, DeWitt Wells, James Little and Charles Rinschler. The rest of the cast mentioned as having individual numbers will be Mammy and Pappy's children, as will Frank Senft, Gloria Myers and Loretta Flowers.

The second part will consist of a selection of southern spirituals by Barbara Decker, Gloria Simmons, Nancy Goble, June Crosby, Warren Simmons, Jack Hill, Raymond Myers, James Little, Donald Romme and Margaret Danford. A solo, Old Man River, will be sung by James Little.

Between parts, a magic act will be presented by Fred Van Deusen. Refreshments will be available.

Assisting Flowers as director will be Henry Milonig in charge of lighting and sound; Wesley Hogan, stage scenery; Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool, makeup; Henry Senft and William Reed, stage properties; Donald Romme, Robert Sickler and Robert Dennis, musical accompaniment.

Bill Is Introduced

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP)—A bill to establish a State Teachers' College on Long Island was introduced today in the Legislature. The measure was sponsored by Sen. S. Wentworth Horton, Greenport Republican.

SIGN OF THE TIMES—Some unknown friend of the new administration has changed a street sign in Redwood City, Calif., from "Truman Street" to "Ike Street," giving the city a popular "pop.ar" intersection.

May Find Problem In Defense Posts

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens said today he may find it difficult to fill out the army's civilian management team because of congressional insistence that Defense Department officials get rid of their holdings in companies doing business with the government.

Stevens said the congressional stand on outside interests has "greatly reduced the list of potential people" for the top defense jobs.

The new army secretary met reporters at the Pentagon the day after he took the oath of office. The Senate help up confirmation of Stevens, a former textile executive in New Jersey and Connecticut, until he agreed to get rid of his outside financial holdings.

"It should be possible for a man to disqualify himself by voluntary action and by order of his superior from having anything to do with a company in which he holds an interest," Stevens said in reply to inquiry.

Defense Secretary Wilson had told the Senate he would order Stevens and other aides not to take action in matters dealing with firms in which they had a financial interest, and at the same time asked that they be allowed to retain their holdings.

The Senate committee rejected this proposal.

Conservation Districts Will Be Developed

Omaha, Feb. 5 (AP)—Development of local soil conservation districts is one of four major steps which have contributed to "an amazing agricultural revolution" in the past 20 years, the master of the National Grange said today.

The other major advances, all made with government help, are the electrification and mechanization of rural America, better farm credit, and on-the-farm applications of agricultural research, said Herschel Newsom, Washington, D. C.

The farm leader's remarks were prepared for delivery at the seventh annual convention here of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts (NASCO). The convention ends tonight.

Newsom said the agricultural "revolution" has brought farm efficiency to a point where American farmers are turning out more food at a lower cost to the consumer than anywhere else in the world.

Legion Oratorical Contest Slated 14th At High School

The third district section of the National High School Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the American Legion, will be held Saturday, Feb. 14, at 8:15 p. m. in Kingston High School auditorium, with John La Houd of Saugerties representing Ulster county. His subject will be Communists and the Fifth Amendment.

There will be speakers from Rensselaer, Albany, Schoharie, Greene, Columbia, and Sullivan boys and girls who won in the county contests over the past several weeks.

Each contestant will deliver a prepared oration of not less than ten minutes or more than twelve on some phase, application, or history of the Constitution. In addition, each contestant will be expected to extemporaneously discuss a particular article or section of the Constitution.

The American Legion color guard, escorts for contestants, and ushers will be supplied by Kingston Post 150, American Legion.

The contesant adjudged the winner in the Third District Contest will proceed to a zone contest in March at Oneonta in a New York State contest.

This year, the winner of the New York state contest will be granted a $4,000 scholarship.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Does the name Mother Lavender or Lizzie Lavender sound familiar. It seems that in Utica, every year, there is a Mother Lavender Dinner on New Year's Day when needy individuals are fed. In 1950 some 375 attended. Strange as it may seem, the food is donated by dealers and individuals, with some 175 basket-dinners distributed to families. This annual project became a tradition in Utica through the efforts of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Lavender, a slave-born evangelist. The New York Folklore quarterly, winter 1952 edition sent me by William G. Tyrrell, state historian, has an interesting article on Mother Lavender. I am sure I ran across the name somewhere, perhaps other readers did too, and can tell me more.

Lizzie Lavender was born in Georgia about 1841. She was a slave and one of nine children. Her first master was John McLewis for whom she picked cotton. When she was seven, her mother and nine children were put up at the auction block and sold in all different directions. At this time Lizzie was sold for $700 to George Hicks who took her to Watertown, S. C. Here she worked as a house slave. She was taught to weave the homespun material worn by the slaves. She was expected to weave 22 yards a day and generally did it.

The second time Lizzie was sold, she brought $1,000 as she was of strong build with heavy arms and shoulders and could do any amount of work and swing an axe like a man. At the time, the slaves were fed out of a trough in which was placed hominy covered with lobbered milk.

Toward the end of the war she was about 24 years old when the master of the house suddenly left and in several days the Lincoln soldiers took over. Then she like others became an ex-slave and kept on working at various plantations until she decided to go north to Albany where she found laundry and other housework. She was so amazingly strong that she had no trouble finding work. Miss Mary Waterman, of a wealthy family, took a deep interest in her and converted her to missionary work. Lizzie could not read and write but had a fine memory, especially for stories from the Bible. She did housework during the day and held religious meetings in the evening. In time she married Nicholas L. Lavender with whom she had nine children. One of her sons was known as a prizefighter, going under the name of Cyclone Smith. Lizzie came to Utica in 1883 as a member of the Negro choir of jubilee singers who were traveling with Andrew Dixon, a Negro revivalist of that time. She was also a lecturer on slave life.

Her popularity grew and she was able to help folks where they needed it most, for instance to solicit funds for funerals for needy folks. She would help girls find jobs. Once she took a blind man and woman in her home and also an orphan of a year old. Mrs. Lavender carried on her work with the aid of the generous of Utica, both the rich and the poor knew and contributed to her work. She lived to the age of ninety and was really never sick till the very end when she was preparing her famous New Year's Day dinner and caught a chill. The sad part of it, she tried to contact her sisters and brothers in the south who had been sold as slaves but never found one of them, although she inquired to the day of her death of anyone who she thought might have had contact with them. For many years her mission work was known in Syracuse, Elmira, Oswego, Rome as well as Utica so folks around here must have known her. She died in 1928.

To Discuss Nursery

Woodstock, Feb. 5—Mrs. Sulva Hutchins, kindergarten teacher at the Woodstock Elementary School, will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Tinker Street Nursery School, Thursday, Feb. 12, at 8:15 p. m., in the school on Mill Hill road. Mrs. Hutchins will discuss possible advantages of nursery school experience for children before they enter kindergarten. Any parents who want to submit questions for Mrs. Hutchins to discuss, may do so in advance at the Woodstock School.

Woodstock, Feb. 5—The Norton Gallery and School of Art of West Palm Beach, Fla., presented during the month of January an exhibition of the work of Carl Walters, well-known sculptor and ceramist of this village. Walters is now teaching classes in the Norton School of Art.

Policy Change Is Felt in India

New Delhi, India, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower's changed policy on Formosa has thrown official India from Prime Minister Nehru downward into a panic over possible extension of the war in Asia. As criticism mounts, the U. S. is robbed of an effective spokesman here because of the uncertainty over whether Ambassador Chester Bowles will be retained or replaced.

While Bowles remains ambassador in name, his effectiveness to answer attacks on the Eisenhower policies has dropped practically to nil. Neither the Indian government nor Indian newspapers are willing to heed reassurances from an ambassador whose fate is so uncertain.

Bowles submitted his resignation in November, effective Jan. 20. An embassy spokesman said today that since that date there has been no official indication from Washington whether he is to continue or pack up and go home.

Bridge Rule . . .

the end of the bridge and drove the unladen bus over the bridge while the pupils walked across the bridge to be picked up again at the opposite end.

Four-Ton Span Used

Wednesday morning the driver was denied permission to cross the bridge and told he would be placed under arrest, if he violated the order, Trustee Boice said. Since then the bus had been using the Sawkill bridge which is posted for a four-ton limit, Boice said, but is a much shorter span.

Two years ago when the grade school in the Ruby district was closed and the elementary pupils transferred to Kingston, a contract was entered into to transport the pupils by bus. Since then the Leggs Mills bridge had been used. Prior to that high school pupils from the district had been transported to Kingston for several years.

Boice said that the bridge had been posted for an eight-ton load in the past but since the replanking of the structure recently, the six-ton load was being rigidly enforced. He pointed out that one way traffic was being maintained now with traffic lights regulating traffic but that frequently there would be several vehicles on the bridge at one time placing a load of over the six-ton limit on the structure at one time.

Used by 25 Tons, He Says

Boice said he had seen the bridge used in the past by loads upwards of 25 tons or more and he said he felt the safe limit could be easily raised to seven tons which would permit the school bus to use the structure.

The matter has been taken up by the trustees of the district, Richard Boice, Roy Feddes and Carl Wille, with the county highway department and Supervisor Percy Bush has been asked to investigate the matter.

Supervisor Bush said today that he was trying to work out some solution and that he was taking up the matter with County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran to learn whether some remedy could not be arrived at. Bush pointed out that town trucks weighing over six tons used the bridge at times.

Considered Safe Load

Supervisor Bush stated that the county highway department, which has the power to post load capacity for county bridge structures, had informed him that the six-ton limit was considered the safe load for the structure and to make repairs to increase the safe load would be a "very expensive" proposition.

Meanwhile should the load capacity of the Sawkill bridge be enforced it will become necessary to transport the pupils in small cars or cease to send them to school.

It has been suggested that the pupils be transported in passenger cars to the Kingston end of the bridge and the bus pick them up there mornings and return them to the end of the bridge in the afternoon.

The trip by way of Sawkill has extended the mileage of the transportation since it is necessary to go to the Legg's Mills bridge, pick up pupils and then turn around and retrace the route to the Sawkill road and over Route 28 to the city.

$700,000 for Horse

Cannes, France, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Aga Khan has sold his famous horse Tulyar for 250,000 pounds ($700,000)—the highest price ever paid for a thoroughbred in Britain—his secretary announced today. The purchaser in the deal completed two days ago was the Irish National Stud. If Tulyar is kept in training this season he will race under the colors of President Sean T. O'Kelly, to whom all Irish National Stud horses are leased. Tulyar is a four-year-old, bred by Tehran, the winner of the 1944 wartime St. Leger Classic, out of a mare whose side was Nearco, winner of the Italian Derby and French Grand Prix in 1938. Tulyar is regarded in British racing circles as the best stud proposition in horse racing since Lord Derby's 1933 Derby winner, Hyperion. As a three-year-old, Tulyar was unbeaten in seven races last year.

Says Churchill Informed

The paper said Churchill got word of the policy change from U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at a pre-inauguration meeting in New York Jan. 6 but went off to Jamaica for vacation and did not inform the foreign office until he returned to England Jan. 28.

Dulles, talking with British government officials yesterday while on a tour of west European capitals, reportedly eased their fears that American deneutralization of Formosa might spread the Korean fighting. Dulles was said to have assured them that the United States will keep trying to limit the war with the Chinese Reds to Korea.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden is expected to give some details of the talks with Dulles when he makes the main reply for the government in tonight's debate.

Churchill had not planned to speak, but there was some speculation that the blast in the Herald would change his mind.

Ellis Island has been used since 1891 by the U. S. government as the chief immigration entry point.

SARDINE-MINDED—Walter Atwood, 6, of Quincy, Mass., thinks the knee of Fire Lt. Arthur Harford is much more comfortable than the inside of the trash barrel, at right. Walter thought it was a dandy idea to crawl into the can, but firemen who had to cut the human sardine free thought otherwise.

New Breaks Occur

flakke dike, where refugees from the twin towns of Nieuwe Tonge and Oude Tonge were stranded.

Dutch army searchlight units were rushed to the scene so the rescue work could begin before daylight.

Efforts Are Hampered

Strong ocean currents hampered efforts to seal leaks in dikes. In spots, currents were sweeping sandbags aside almost as soon as they were pushed in place. Near Zierikzee, flying squads worked ceaselessly to fill seven gaps in protective walls—thus far without much success.

In Britain, too, civilian volunteers and members of the armed forces worked far into the night to strengthen dikes, particularly on the "death island" of Cavey in the Thames estuary.

Some 3,000 residents of the island, where at least 46 have already perished and 1,000 been forced to flee to the mainland, escaped further disaster today when the morning tide failed to break through the sea wall again.

Swept Through Breach

Near Kings Lynn, on the Lincolnshire coast, a barge carrying 30 Royal Air Force officers and men was swept through a 40-foot breach in the bank of the flooded river Ouse. The airmen, who were helping sandbag the protective walls, were rescued from their stranded barge by rowboat.

Gales raged on the North Sea but along the English coast the highest wind velocity reported last night was 38 miles per hour. Rain or snow with fresh winds up to 25 miles an hour were predicted for the east coast today.

In Holland, rescue workers cheered today at the news that U. S. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Atlantic Pact commander in Europe, was on the disaster scene with a promise of as much further aid as needed.

The Dutch Red Cross announced that it had already received sufficient donations of clothing to supply flood refugees and that no more would be needed. It added, however, that there still was a great need for blankets and mattresses.

Thruway Project

between the Esopus creek and the two railroads, will also be taken for the strip between Whiteport and Route 28.

Plans for the traffic interchange, as announced last year, call for relocating a section of the Esopus creek bed, between the railroad bridge and a point near the city. This would affect considerable farmland on both sides of Route 28.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Feb. 4—Mrs. A. J. Didier, the former Lillian Longyear of Shokan, came from Flushing, Thursday and spent the weekend with her relatives, Aner and Edna Longyear of the old state road.

Allen Terwilliger, local old timer and weather statistician, reports a total snow precipitation of 17 inches thus far in the winter as against 41½ inches to February 1 last year. Total snowfall here for 1951-52 season was 75 inches according to Allen's records.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Carlson of the metropolitan area spent Sunday with Mrs. Carlson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gebelein, and son, Harold Carlson. While here the couple inspected their new house near the viaduct, upon which Mrs. Carlson's father has been working for the past six months. This is one of several new dwellings in the VanSteenburgh road section of Shokan.

Mrs. James Stoutenburgh, well known northern Hurley matron, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Saturday. Mrs. Stoutenburgh plans to open an antique shop at her Glenford place in the spring.

The sum of $150 accrued to the Olive March of Dimes campaign as a result of the supper and entertainment held at the Shokan Reformed Church Thursday evening. It was reported at the meeting that $15 was donated to the drive in lieu of flowers to the late Mrs. Elwyn Winchell.

Echo of Waterworks Days: Feb. 3, 1915—Senator Charles Walton, a native of Olive Branch, has been appointed a member of the state caucus committee...Edgar Teas, 88, lifelong resident of Brown's Station, died at home of his son, John, in Union Hill, N. J... Mombaccus Heights reporter for The Freeman says: "Failure of the hoop business, failure of hens to lay as they should, and the high price of feed and flour are serious problemns confronting our people this winter."

Mrs. Homer Markle, Sr., her son, Homer, and grandson, Edwin Swenson, are ill at the Markle homestead along the West Butternutkill.

Peter Fitzgerald, one of Kingston's old timers who used to participate in minstrel shows up this way many years ago, is greeting his city friends again following a hospital sojourn and major operation.

Possible 125 Boys Ready for Signing In New Cub Pack

The organization of a cub pack with a potential membership of approximately 125 boys is currently underway at the Onteora School with Frank Teel, field director of Rip Van Winkle Council Boy Scouts of America, in charge.

Donald Bishop has been selected as the institutional representative on the pack committee, with the American Legion sponsoring the movement and the weekly den meetings to be held in the Onteora School building.

It was pointed out by Field Director Teel that the school services 21 communities and thus the possibility of a large cub pack is extremely good.

To Brief Parents

Parent-training sessions for the new pack will be held in the Onteora School cafeteria on February 9 and 16 at 8 p. m. with Director Teel in charge of the sessions. The field director stressed the need for parent-participation in cub activities, pointing out that the 8 to 11 year old boys who are eligible for cub scouting must have the backing of their parents in order for them to enjoy the full benefits of the cub scout movement.

Following the end of the parent-training sessions, to which all parents are urgently invited, the remainder of the pack committee will be organized and the organization of the dens within the new pack will be completed.

Honored Bullfrogs

Once each year, in Japan, prayers are said and incense burned by high priests of the Buddhist temple, to soothe the souls of the thousands of bullfrogs sacrificed during the year for experimental purposes.

Don't Let Error Ruin Your Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In most hands you can afford to make a small mistake. Not every slip is fatal, and you may occasionally play a hand carelessly and still live to tell the tale.

In today's hand, however, declarer had no such luck. He made one false move and woke up to find himself dead.

West opened the queen of diamonds, and dummy won with the king. South quite properly congratulated himself on reaching an excellent slam contract. It wasn't easy to bid, but it was practically a lay-down with a normal trump break.

At the second trick declarer cashed dummy's ace of hearts, discovering the bad news. He continued by leading a low trump from dummy and won a finesse with the eight of hearts. South next led the queen of spades, overtaking with dummy's king. East held off, but took the next round of spades with his ace.

East returned a diamond and dummy won with the king. South now made his fatal error by cashing the top clubs and ruffing a club with dummy's king of hearts. East promptly discarded his last spade on the third round of clubs, and it was all over but the shouting.

Declarer was in the dummy for the last time and therefore had to try to cash dummy's last spade.

East could now ruff, however, and there was no way for South to dispose of his last club. Down one at a cold slam contract!

The correct play was very simple. South should have cashed dummy's last spade before touching the clubs. East would have been forced to follow suit on the third round of spades, and South could have discarded a club.

After this play, it would be easy to cash the top clubs and ruff a club with dummy's king of trumps. A second trump finesse through East would then produce the rest of the tricks.

Teach Child Early To Brush Teeth, Dentists Advise

Children should be taught to brush their teeth as soon as they can learn to do a good job of it, is the advice of the Ulster-Greene Dental Society in connection with National Dental Health Week.

"Before then," said a representative of the organization, parents should supervise the brushing until they are certain the children will brush efficiently without their help. Parents should also be sure children have brushes small enough to reach all areas of the mouth. The brush should have a flat brushing surface and a straight handle. It is also a good idea to have the family dentist explain to children the best way to brush their teeth.

Brush After Meals

"The best time to brush the teeth is right after every meal. It is important to brush away food debris which may form acids that bring about tooth decay.

"It is especially important that children brush their teeth after eating candy or other sweets because it is sugar which creates decay-causing acids.

"For the upper teeth, a downward stroke should be used, brushing the surfaces next to the cheeks and those next to the tongue. On the lower teeth, an upward stroke should be used. In other words, the teeth should be brushed in such a manner as to cause the brush to move away from the gums.

"After the surfaces next to the cheek and tongue are properly brushed, the chewing surfaces should be thoroughly brushed. Every tooth surface should receive at least seven or eight strokes. After the teeth have been brushed, the mouth should be rinsed, with warm water to remove any loose particles of food left in the mouth.

Just Aid to Brushing

"A dentifrice, whether it be paste or powder, is merely an aid to the brush in cleaning the teeth, but it makes the task more pleasant.

"A dentifrice should never be counted on to cure any dental ills. A satisfactory and inexpensive dentifrice can be made by mixing three parts of baking soda with one part of powered salt. If preferred, either baking soda or powdered salt may be used alone."

WALLKILL NEWS

Wallkill, Feb. 4—On Sunday at the regular morning worship service at 11 a. m. at the Wallkill Reformed Church, Walter Van Popering, as student of New Bruynswick Seminary will again preach the morning sermon. Immediately following the morning worship service, a congregational meeting will be held for all members of the church. Music will be under the supervision of Mrs. Hubert Hendrie and the choir will render A Mighty Fortress Is Our God and Even Me. At 10 a. m. Superintendent Frederick C. Terwilliger will conduct the opening services of the Sunday school. The Ladies' Bible class under the teaching of James Lyons will open at the same time in the church. At 4 p. m. the Junior Youth Fellowship will meet at the church hall. The Young Adult Group will meet at 5:30 p. m. at the church. The topic for study will be Trash or Treasure. The Senior Youth Fellowship will meet at the church at 7 p. m. Senior choir rehearsal will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the church. All members are urged to be present so that initial rehearsals may be started for the Easter Cantata given each year by the choir.

Smith and Bryant Approvals Likely

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Unanimous committee endorsements of Gen. Walter Bedell Smith and James Bryant Conant for top diplomatic posts foreshadowed their confirmation by big votes when the full Senate considers them, possibly tomorrow.

All 15 members of the foreign relations committee voted late yesterday in favor of Smith as undersecretary of state, the No. 2 man in the department, and Conant as high commissioner for Germany.

Smith was chief of staff to President Eisenhower in World War 2 and is the retiring head of the Central Intelligence Agency. Conant is winding up a 20-year career as president of Harvard University.

CIO Calls for End

wage increases involving hundreds of thousands of workers are now stalled before the Wage Stabilization Board.

Eisenhower's latest step, taken yesterday, was to knock out the defense production administration mainstay of the Truman administration's industrial controls program. The agency's functions were turned over to the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) under Flemming.

Search Is Abandoned

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5 (AP)—Search crews wrote finish today to their hunt for a missing British airliner which disappeared in the Atlantic Monday with 39 persons—servicemen, their wives and children aboard. No trace was found during an intensive sea and air search. Although still without clues, the air force is continuing the hunt for a missing RCAF Lancaster and its nine crew members, missing in Labrador. It disappeared while hunting for a United States civilian plane and its two occupants, also still missing.

Olive Bridge Meeting

The quarterly conference of the Olive Bridge, The Vly and Samsonville Methodist Churches will be held Friday in the Olive Br Methodist Church, it was nounced today by the Rev. Ge P. Cox, pastor. Local Solicitation ing from Miss Isabelle H. McHugh of this city. During the day several others also contributed.

Named on the committee with Feye were Victor H. Roth, treasurer; Albert Kurdt, secretary; Harry Rigby, Jr., publicity chairman. Mayor Newkirk was named honorary chairman.

It was decided by the committee to set up a house-to-house canvass. This will take place Monday, Feb. 16, between 7 and 8 p. m. Next week will be devoted to completing necessary organization. With sufficient workers only between 10 and 20 home visits will have to be made by each worker.

Factories and organizations will not be solicited personally, but everybody, including firms, stores and organizations are invited to contribute to the Kingston-Holland Flood Relief Fund, care of Mayor's Office, City Hall, Kingston.

At the meeting Wednesday evening individual contributions of $50, $25, and many $1 contributions had already been received, it was announced.

The citizens committee decided to assign the responsibility for organizing the various wards of the city to various organizations and clubs. Each group will be asked to appoint a chairman for the ward, or election district of the large wards, and call upon their members and other citizens to create a group large enough to visit every residence in the district.

The assignments made are as follows:

First Ward, Rotary Club; Second Ward, first district, Kiwanis Club; Second Ward, second district, Lions Club; Third Ward, American Legion; Fourth Ward, Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary; Fifth Ward, Cordts Hose Company; Sixth Ward, Knights of Columbus; Seventh Ward, Kingston Power Boat Association; Eighth Ward, Rapid Hose Company; Ninth Ward, Loyal Order of the Moose; Tenth Ward, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Eleventh Ward, YWCA groups; Twelfth Ward, first district, Excelsior Hose Company; Twelfth Ward, second district, Kingston Teachers' Federation; Thirteenth Ward, B'nai Brith.

It was suggested that ladies Auxiliary groups and other organizations volunteer their services because at least 400 workers will be needed to canvass the entire city.

Push Planned . . .

"count of those genuinely interested in establishing PPR and those interested solely in paying it lip service. This will clear the air and give the civic organizations an opportunity to challenge those who support PPR on Election Day but vote against it in the Legislature."

Bills Are Introduced

Republican bills urging PPR have been introduced by Sen. Pliny W. Williamson, a veteran legislator from Scarsdale who does not always follow the GOP party line, and by Assemblyman John R. Brook of Manhattan.

Under present law, voters in communities of more than 5,000 population must register personally each year to vote. In smaller communities, voters are not required to register in person.

A PPR bill by Williamson died in committee last year.

A Manhattan Democrat submitted a bill that virtually would scrap the state's Feinberg Law barring subversives from teaching jobs in the public school system.

The measure by Sen. Fred G. Moritt would repeal the law's basic provisions—requiring the Board of Regents to list organizations it considers subversive, and to remove teachers and employes who are members of those organizations.

Other New Measures

Other new measures would:

Permit physicians who serve at least twice a month at free clinics to claim an additional $2,500 exemption for state income tax.

Require appellate divisions to establish clinic bureaus for counsel and advice before matrimonial actions come to trial.

Make the birthday of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt—Jan. 30—a legal holiday in the state.

Authorize education boards to acquire property for school camps under the jurisdiction of the Board of Regents. The bill would permit the board to purchase property outside their districts if suitable sites were not available in the district.

Limit the tenure of the governor to two consecutive four-year terms.

Require all New York-registered motor vehicles manufactured after Jan. 1, 1955 to have rear wheels covered by splashboards. (Sen. Carlo A. Lanzillotti, R-Long Island City.)

Replace the "old-fashioned truant officer" by a teacher designated as an attendance teacher, trained in psychology and associated fields. (Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, R-Newburgh.)

been no occasion up to now which invoked the Formosan defense instructions. No U. S. planes or ships have had to fire upon any Red aircraft or vessels headed for Formosa.

Threat Remains

But the threat remains and may in fact be aggravated if the Communists choose to use the Eisenhower order as a pretext for offensive action across the Formosan Straight. It could have the effect of spreading at least the air-sea phase of the Korean War far down the coast.

The prospect seems remote that Chiang Kai-shek's forces can launch any substantial action, either by air or sea, against the Red-held mainland before late next spring.

The monsoon season will keep heavy storm clouds over the straits and will whip the shallow water into seas too rough for the few amphibious craft Chiang may have.

Then too, the Nationalist Air Force currently is neither large enough nor has the equipment to match strength with Communist air power.

Will Use Planes

However, Sen. Wiley (R-Wisc) told his colleagues yesterday he understands Chiang will use planes he is getting from the U. S. to attack a vital north-south rail line on the mainland.

"If Chiang has any strength at all, and he's getting airplanes, he will disrupt that railroad," said Wiley, Foreign Relations Committee chairman.

If Chiang wanted to gamble, he could send part or all of his relatively small air force of piston-engined fighters, fighter-bombers and few medium bombers of World War 2 vintage on strikes against his enemy.

But a few hours' flight northward in Manchuria are about 1,400 MIG-15 jet fighters, bearing the insignia of the Chinese Red Air Force. Interception of the slow, propeller-driven planes by these Soviet-made jets could seriously damage or destroy all of Chiang's combat air force in a single operation.

A race is now on to modernize the Nationalist Air Force.

lyn pier, leaving a 100-foot section of the pier in wreckage.

No one was reported injured in either mishap, and damage to the ships was not great.

Cavanagh said tentative plans had been made to remove passengers from incoming liners in the lower bay on municipal ferryboats if the ships are unable to dock. He said the ferryboats would not be used unless approved by the tugboat owners and the strikers' union, local 333 of the United Marine Division of the ILA. Approval was expected to be sought today.

The 29,600-ton American export liner Constitution was due this morning and the 43,000-ton French liner Ile De France tonight. The ships have a total of 1,063 passengers.

A bigger job comes tomorrow when the 81,000-ton Cunard liner Queen Mary, second largest passenger ship afloat, arrives with 976 passengers. The Queen Mary made docking history in 1938 tugboat strike by tying up without aid of tugs. A rowboat was used to guide her into the dock.

City officials have been making emergency plans to cope with possible shortages of coal and fuel oil if the strike continues.

The tugboat men's local union, whose negotiations with the New York Marine Towing and Transportation Employers Association are deadlocked, seeks a pay increase of 25 cents an hour, scaled-down from original demands of hikes ranging from 30 to 50 per cent. The employers have offered a five per cent increase averaging 8½ cents an hour. Pay ranges from $1.36 an hour for deck hands to $2.35½ for some captains. Pay scales vary elsewhere. The union is demanding other benefits in addition to a pay boost.

Chiang's Troops 'a Bargain in World Strategy'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of the following dispatch, who writes frequently for NEA Service, is an authority on the Far East, where she has lived for many years. She is a personal friend of the top Chinese Nationalist personalities.

* * * *

By GERALDINE FITCH
NEA Special Correspondent

Taipeh, Formosa (NEA)—The Nationalist troops on Formosa are a bargain in strategic world-wide planning, says General William Chase, head of America's Military Advisory Aid Group here.

In an exclusive interview with NEA Service, he declared:

Formosa is a constant threat to the Reds, actually and psychologically.

It is also a strategic deterrent to any Chinese Communist move toward Indo-China.

"For a few hundred dollars per man per year," he explained, "you can have a first-class fighting force of half a million men."

Gen. Chase would make no guess as to where Nationalist forces might first be used—in Korea, Indo-China, or for an invasion of the Chinese mainland. His job is to get the 500,000 soldiers ready, and that's no small task. But he was relaxed and affable after five days of strenuous military conferences with his own staff officers and those of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

"The Chinese navy and air force could lay an effective blockade along the China coast within a matter of hours," Gen. Chase said.

There are strong indications that something of a bootleg blockade" is probably going on even now. The Chinese Nationalist Navy was quick to reach the sinking merchant ship Avanti off the Red coast and rescue its personnel not long ago. The Chinese Air Force was on its toes when a Chinese Communist tried to hijack a Philippine Air Lines plane this winter.

"There's a high potential here," Gen. Chase told NEA. "How soon this team is ready to play in the big league depends on Washington. When the time comes for action we're going to need a lot of ammunition soonest."

This seemed to echo his statement to 600 Chinese and American officers and newsmen last December when he said: "We have received some hardware this past year. We're going to receive a lot more of it this next year . . . I think business will be picking up this year, and I think you know what I mean."

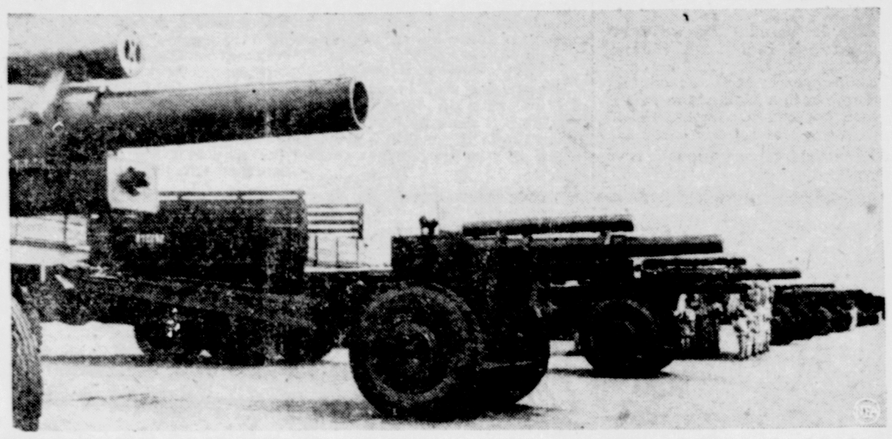
Some of that "pick-up in business" is now indicated in reports of Nationalist guerrilla forces already operating on or close to the mainland under direct command from Formosa.

In his interview, Gen. Chase said he felt that President Eisenhower "definitely" felt the strategic importance of Formosa. When Gen. Chase met the new President in Korea, he said, he had "every opportunity to brief him on all phases of the situation in Formosa."

Last October Chiang Kai-shek retired some 131 generals and admirals who were over-age, physically unfit, or had reached maximum term of service. It is the new, younger officers who will lead the next move of the Nationalist troops.

Asked if these new generals had learned the importance of cooperation, or would be inclined to fight individual brands of war, Gen. Chase said "the high command, through our school system, is getting the modern viewpoint."

As for the younger officers, he said, "they're tops."



CHIANG'S GUNS ON REVIEW: "When the time comes for action, we're going to need a lot of ammunition soonest," says General William Chase, head of U. S. Military Advisory Aid in Formosa.

THE FACES OF CHIANG'S MEN: "For a few hundred dollars per man per year, a first-class fighting force of half a million men."

Jelke Case Is Put Over Until Friday

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—An all-male jury and two male alternates have been selected for the vice trial of Minot (Mickey) Jelke, margarine heir accused of forcing three young women into high-price prostitution and living off the earnings of one.

After completion of selection of the jury and alternates yesterday—one bachelor and the rest married men—General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente put the start of the trial over until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The recess, Valente said, was to enable the jurors to put their affairs in order for a trial expected to last a month.

Jelke was seized during raids aimed at breaking up cafe society vice which allegedly involved $500-a-night call girls.

If convicted on all counts of a nine-count indictment, the 23-year-old Jelke could be sentenced to a maximum of 146 years in prison.

The first witness expected to be called is 19-year-old Pat Ward, who reportedly told authorities about high-priced prostitution after Jelke jilted her for another woman.

Raiders Land on Coast

Taipeh, Formosa, Feb. 5 (AP)—Well-equipped Nationalist raiders landed on the Red China coast Jan. 9, joined waiting guerrilla troops and struck into the interior, the Ta Tao News Agency said today. The report gave no details, even whether the raiders withdrew. The agency, operated by the ministry of the interior, said the troops landed from junks 15 miles north of Amoy on Formosa straight.

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., ADOPTED FEBRUARY 3, 1953, AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF MACHINERY AND APPARATUS FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE, APPROPRIATING $47,110.56 THEREFOR, INCLUDING THE APPROPRIATION OF $7,610.56 AS THE DOWN PAYMENT, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $39,500 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE THE REMAINDER OF THE APPROPRIATION.

THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, CONVENED IN REGULAR SESSION, HEREBY ORDAINS (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Pursuant to recommendations of the Board of Public Works, there is hereby authorized the purchase of the following machinery and apparatus for highway construction and maintenance: one pressure pump complete with hoses at a cost not to exceed $4,041.86, one power scythe at a cost not to exceed $200, one vehicle hoist at a cost not to exceed $3,606, one power pavement breakers at a cost not to exceed $1,207.70, one scoopmobile at a cost not to exceed $6,360, one chain saw at a cost not to exceed $345, one eductor truck at a cost not to exceed $27,750, one enclosed area for vehicle hoist at a cost not to exceed $1,500 and one thousand feet of fire hose at a cost not to exceed $2,100. The estimate of the maximum total cost of said object or purpose is $47,110.56, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto, and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor including the appropriation of $7,610.56 as the down payment. The plan of financing includes the down payment referred to in Section 3 hereof, the issuance of serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $39,500 to finance the remainder of the appropriation, and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 2. Serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $39,500 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, as amended.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued, within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 28 of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are required to be provided prior to the issuance of the bonds authorized by this ordinance in an amount equal to at least sixteen per centum (16%) of the estimated cost and such current funds have already been provided in the amount of $7,610.56 by appropriation in the budget of the City for the fiscal year 1953 under the caption "Down Payment—Capital Improvements" and the said sum of $7,610.56 is hereby authorized to be withdrawn from the said budget appropriation and shall be applied to the improvements described in Section 1 hereof.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City, without limitation as to rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City of Kingston are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation thereof and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the bonds and notes to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and pursuant to §30.00 of said Local Finance Law relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of §50.00 and §§56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and of any notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer as the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. The validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of this ordinance are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Section 7. This ordinance shall be published at least twice in the "Kingston Daily Freeman" and in the "Ulster County News & Kingston Leader" (which newspapers are allied to and support the two political parties which cast the greater number of votes at the preceding general election and are the official newspapers of the City), together with a notice prescribed by §81.00 of the Local Finance Law appended by the City Clerk, and shall take effect immediately after such publication.

Dewey Again Tells New York Money Burden Its Own

New York, Feb. 5 — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey admits New York city needs added revenue, but says it must solve its financial crisis without new state aid.

Dewey, in a speech last night at the Diamond Jubilee dinner of the Hotel Association of New York city, attacked what he called "outrageous myths" indicating that the big city is bearing more than its share of state expenses.

The four "myths" denied by Dewey:

1. That the state "short changes" the city in distribution of state aid.

2. That the city contributes more than its share of taxes to the state.

3. That the city lacks sufficient funds to build needed schools and therefore the state should take over such construction.

4. That with better management alone the city could balance its budget without additional revenues.

Based on Formulas

As for "myth" Number One, Dewey said state aid is based on complex formulas "soundly conceived and honestly worked out."

While New York city has 53 per cent of all the people in the state, he said, the formulas give more than 53 per cent of state aid to the city in some categories and less in others.

The governor said the city gets 71 per cent of all state aid for welfare, 78 per cent of all low rent housing subsidies in the state budget, 58 per cent of aids for public health, and 82 per cent of all state money expended on arterial highways.

The city receives less than 53 per cent of state aid for education, he said, because it has fewer children per capita than other cities and far more real estate to support each child in school.

As for "myth" number two concering taxes, Dewey said 56 per cent of all state revenues are collected from businessmen and individuals in New York city.

From Business Activities

"But many of the firms which pay millions in taxes from New York city derive their earnings from business activities carried on throughout the state and nation," he said. "The myth peddlers would have you believe that New York city is entitled to the full credit * * * because the firms' home offices are located in the city."

Concerning "myth" number three about schools:

A special state commission reported two years ago, Dewey said, that the city's school education building program had been delayed by lack of coordination, by the Board of Education's failure to determine needs and lack of long-range planning.

As for "myth" number four on city management and need for revenue, Dewey said:

"In all fairness to the city government, I must tell you that our studies over the last two years show that this is "not the case.

"While there can and should be better management, the city cannot maintain its many services without large additional revenues."

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., ADOPTED FEBRUARY 3, 1953, AUTHORIZING STREET IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CITY, APPROPRIATING $100,000 THEREFOR, INCLUDING THE APPROPRIATION OF $16,000 AS THE DOWN PAYMENT, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $84,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE THE REMAINDER OF THE APPROPRIATION.

THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, CONVENED IN REGULAR SESSION, HEREBY ORDAINS (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Pursuant to recommendations of the Board of Public Works, the construction, reconstruction or resurfacing of roads, avenues or streets, or portions thereof, in the City of Kingston, including in some instances sidewalks, curbs, gutters, drainage and other necessary incidental improvements, is hereby authorized and the amount of $100,000 is hereby appropriated therefor, including the appropriation of $16,000 as the down payment. The plan of financing includes the down payment referred to in Section 3 hereof, the issuance of serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $84,000 to finance the remainder of the appropriation, and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 2. Serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $84,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, as amended.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The kind of specific object or purpose within the class of objects or purposes described in Section 1 of this ordinance is hereby specified to be the construction, reconstruction or resurfacing of roads, avenues or streets, the pavements to be of more durable construction than sand and gravel, water bound macadam or penetration process, and in consequence, the period of probable usefulness of the class of objects for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued, within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 20 of said Local Finance Law, is ten (10) years.

(b) Current funds are required to be provided prior to the issuance of the bonds authorized by this ordinance in an amount equal to at least sixteen per centum (16%) of the estimated cost and such current funds have already been provided in the amount of $16,000 by appropriation in the budget of the City for the fiscal year 1953 under the caption "Down Payment—Capital Improvements" and the said sum of $16,000 is hereby authorized to be withdrawn from the said budget appropriation and shall be applied to the improvements described in Section 1 hereof.

NOTICE is hereby given that the general tax roll of the City of Kingston has been left with me for collection of the taxes therein mentioned which may be paid in two equal installments without penalty or interest, the first one-half within thirty days following the date of this notice and the remaining one-half within the thirty days following three months after the date of this notice. If any taxpayer shall pay the full amount of his taxes within thirty days of the date of this notice he shall be entitled to deduct therefrom an amount equal to one-half of one per centum thereof. The law provides that penalties be added to taxes not paid during the above stated periods.

The office of the City Treasurer in the City Hall shall remain open for the collection of taxes from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. except on Saturday when the closing hour is 12 noon.

February 2, 1953.

OSCAR A. GOODSELL
City Treasurer

ASSESSOR'S NOTICE OF COMPLETION OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Assessor of the City of Kingston has completed the assessment of 75 per cent of the costs and expenses of the construction of a sanitary sewer, storm sewer and paving on Browning Terrace against the owners of properties immediately benefited thereby and that the same is filed in the office of the City Assessor in the City Hall, Kingston, N. Y., where it may be seen and examined by all persons interested therein until February 24th, 1953. On February 24th, 1953, the Assessor will be in his office at the City Hall from 9:00 o'clock a. m. to 5:00 o'clock p. m., to receive, hear and examine objections from any and all persons interested therein.

Dated this 5th day of February, 1953.

WINFIELD SWART
Assessor

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE AND RESTRICT THE LOCATION OF TRADES AND INDUSTRIES AND LOCATIONS FOR BUILDINGS DESIGNED FOR SPECIFIC USES, ETC., KNOWN AS THE ZONING ORDINANCE, APPROVED BY THE MAYOR, AUGUST 8, 1928.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Common Council of the City of Kingston, New York, as follows:

SECTION 1. That an Ordinance to regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specific uses, known as the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Kingston, New York, be amended as follows:

That the following described parcel of land now in the residential district be included in the business district and that the building zone maps, a part of the aforesaid ordinance, be amended to include the said parcel of land within said business district:

ALL THAT PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate on the southwest side of Madison Avenue, Second Ward, City of Kingston, New York, County of Ulster, New York, and being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a pipe driven in the ground on the southwest side of Madison Avenue, said point being north 39 degrees 18 minutes west and 125 feet distant from a monument set in the ground at the intersection formed by the southwest side of Madison Avenue with the northeast side of Albany Avenue; thence from said point of beginning south 50 degrees 42 minutes west at right angles to Madison Avenue along lands of John Martin and Elmer Osterhoudt 100 feet to a pipe driven in the ground at the northeast line of the parcel of land first hereinabove described; thence north 39 degrees 18 minutes west and parallel to Madison Avenue 25 feet to a pipe driven in the ground; thence north 50 degrees 42 minutes east and parallel with the first described course 100 feet to a pipe driven in the ground on the southwest side of Madison Avenue; thence south 39 degrees 18 minutes east along the southwest side of Madison Avenue 25 feet to the point and place of beginning. Being a lot having a frontage of 25 feet on Madison Avenue and a depth of 100 feet.

EXCEPTING AND RESERVING therefrom a strip five (5) feet in depth running along Madison Avenue for the aforesaid distance of 25 feet.

SECTION 2. That an ordinance duly adopted by the Common Couhcil on January 6, 1953 and amending the aforesaid Zoning Ordinance of the City of Kingston as to the hereinbefore described parcel of land be and the same hereby is rescinded, revoked and repealed.

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall be published twice in each of the official newspapers of the City of Kingston and shall take effect immediately following such publication.

Submitted to the Mayor by the City Clerk the 4th day of February, 1953.

BERNHARDT S. KRAMER
City Clerk

Approved by the Mayor, the 5th day of February, 1953.

OSCAR V. NEWKIRK

The Reverend Passmore can't understand it, but the library reports that every time he condemns some book as sinful, there's such a demand the book's soon engaged for weeks ahead.

The governor gave no indication as to how the city should raise added revenues.

Lukewarm Milking

Dawson, Neb. (AP) — For years, farmers have been encouraging their pigs to huddle under electric infra-red lamps in their brooder houses during cold weather. That gave farmer Lloyd Heim an idea. Now he does his milking beneath one of the heat lamps which he rigged up above his milking stool.

How Turtles Breathe

Because the shell keeps the ribs of turtles in a fixed position, breathing is done by means of an apparatus in the mouth and neck, helped by the movements of the legs.

Vaccarella Called At Chotiner Trial

Mineola, Feb. 5 (AP) — Mayor Joseph P. Vaccarella of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., was one of several character witnesses yesterday for Seymour Chotiner, former Office of Price Stabilization attorney accused of extortion.

Vaccarella lauded Chotiner's reputation and said he appointed him his executive secretary last year after Chotiner quit as OPS attorney.

Garland L. Culpepper, Jr., a Mineola awning manufacturer, has accused Chotiner, 29, and two other men of shaking him down for several hundred dollars last summer to fix an OPS ceiling price violaton. Culpepper was in trouble at the time for selling a 1952 Cadillac convertible at a price in excess of OPS limits.

Denies Shakedown

Chotiner denied any shakedown when he took the witness stand in his own defense Tuesday. So did his two co-defendants, William T. Holland 36, of the Bronx, and Dennis J. O'Shea, 40, of Pleasantville, both also are former OPS employes.

Defense lawyers rested their cases in behalf of Chotiner and Holland yesterday. But additional witnesses are on call today in O'Shea's behalf.

A jury in Nassau County Judge Norman F. Lent's Court is hearing the second degree extortion case.

Besides Mayor Vaccarella, character witnesses for Chotiner were his pastor, Dr. Carl Weist of the Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Community Church, and William Roth, vice president and director of the First National Bank of New Rochelle.

Two former schoolmates of Holland—both Roman Catholic priests—were character witnesses for him. They were the Rev. Fr. John E. Conway and the Rev. Fr. John F. Sexton, both of the Bronx.

Silver in Wide Usage

New York (AP)—The world used 251,300,000 ounces of silver in 1952, reports the 37th annual Handy & Harman silver market review. Silver is now being used in brazing alloys, where he provides a fast inexpensive method of bonding metals. It also is being widely used throughout the chemical and electronic industries. Of last year's consumption, 95 million ounces represented United States use in the arts and industries.

Steve Hannagan Dies in Africa

Nairobi, Kenya, Feb. 5 (AP) — Steve Hannagan, the press agent who put the bathing beauty on America's front pages, died of a heart attack in a hotel here today. He had arrived in the Kenyan capital on Tuesday.

The publicist came here on a business trip for the Coca-Cola Company, one of his industrial clients.

Plans were made to return the body to the United States by air for burial.

Born in Lafayette, Ind., 53 years ago, Hannagan at an early age became one of America's most colorful and famous publicity experts — the popularizer of Miami Beach, Sun Valley and the Indianapolis Speedway.

Among his clients, he numbered also a host of large industrial organizations, sports and entertainment figures.

Hannagan — he was christened Stephen Jerome, but few people knew it—became a newspaper reporter on the Lafayette Morning Journal at 14. During his two years at Purdue University, he was the paper's city editor and wrote for Metropolitan papers as well. When the Indianapolis star offered him a job as sports writer he quit college in 1919.

Opens Own Office at 25

He opened his own publicity office at 25, after working for the United Press, the NEA service and at his first press agenting for the speedway.

Employed to promote Miami Beach, he launched the flood of wintertime bathing beauty pictures which became a sure space-winner in newspapers and a major attraction for the resort. Grateful Miami Beach paid him $25,000 a year for his services.

The genial Hannagan has a host of friends in the business, entertainment, sports and newspaper worlds. Top columnists kept in constant touch with him. He was known as a 16-hour-a-day worker whose chief hobby was his business.

Hannagan's first marriage, in 1931 to Ruth Ellery, ended in divorce. In 1939 he was married to model Suzanne Brewster, but they also were divorced, in 1943.

In recent years, he had been the frequent companion of movie actress Ann Sheridan, generating considerable romantic speculation about the pair.

Too Many Bases and Officers, Short Says, Asks Restrictions

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Rep. Short (R-Mo) said today Congress may have to write more restrictive laws to stop what he termed a deplorable growth of military brass.

Short, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said present laws governing promotions in the armed services and setting limits on the number of officers in each rank may have to be thoroughly reviewed and revised.

Rep. Glenn R. Davis (R-Wis) told the committee yesterday that the number of officers above the rank of lieutenant colonel has increased since the war, although the armed forces now are only one-half of one-quarter as large.

This means, he said, the ratio of senior officers to enlisted men is about four times greater today.

The army, he said, will have 451 major generals next June for a 1,600,000 man army, compared to 459 for the seven million men of the war.

Rep. Norbald (R-Ore) a committee member, said the navy has 295 admirals for a million-man fleet, compared to 287 for a four million-man wartime force.

The committee heard these statistics at the start of hearings to consider ways of altering regulations to prevent freezing the careers of 10,000 junior naval officers. The hearings will resume tomorrow.

Uranium Claims Staked

Regina, Sask. (AP)—Prospectors staked 4,100 new claims in Saskatchewan in 1952. Claims totalled only 1,417 before early August, when the Athabaska uranium area of the northwest was thrown open to individual prospectors.

HONORS OHIO—The 150th anniversary of Ohio's statehood will be marked by the issuance of this three-cent commemorative postage stamp, to go on first-day sale at Chillicothe on March 2. The design features an outline of the state, which forms a background for Ohio's Great Seal. At each side is a row of eight stars, representing the 16 states admitted prior to Ohio. The 17th star, representing Ohio, appears above the north border of the map. In lower left corner is a buckeye leaf, symbolizing the state's nickname.

TO "A NEW, LIBERATED EGYPT"—Celebrating six months as Egypt's premier, Gen. Mohammed Naguib, reaffirms his loyalty to Egypt, as he addresses a crowd of 100,000 gathered in Cairo's Liberty Square.

GETS "A" FOR EFFORT—Armed with a glass of water and some castor oil if required, David Aufmuth, 14, of Cleveland, Ohio, starts in on a super-duper ice cream sundae. The amazing concoction is made up of half a gallon of ice cream, three scoops of hot fudge, half a cup of chopped nuts, a can of whipping cream plus the usual trimmings. No one has yet finished the $2.25 sundae at one sitting.

DOGGY TOGGERY—"Pride of Leyton," stylish Yorkshire terrier, models his wild-mink coat while having his hair curled. Owned by Mrs. Catherine Miller, of North Olmstead, Ohio, he's known as "Terry" by his less aristocratic friends. Terry's extra coat is for everyday wear. It's only made of domestically-raised mink.

SHE'S NO DUMB-BELL—Mrs. Almeda Brooks, above, of Providence, R. I., has prescribed daily dumb-bell exercises for herself. The 91-year-old doctor's widow claims that the exercise helps to ward off arthritis.

Advancement of Colored People, Topic at Rotary

Everett Hodge, president of the Ulster County Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, outlined the national organization's program and also the work of the branch here at the meeting of the Rotary Club held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

In an interesting talk, the speaker described the origin of the national association, its major principles and the progress made since its inception. He was introduced by the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, program chairman for February.

President Steuding announced that Attorney Fred Stang will speak on the life of Lincoln at the luncheon-meeting next Wednesday.

Mrs. Lord's Double Job

Will Try to Sell United Nations to People

By PATTI SIMMONS
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington, (NEA) — Mrs. Oswald Lord, the lady who replaces Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in the United Nations, is planning to do a double-barreled job in her new assignment.

In addition to her regular duties of representing the U. S. on the UN Commission on Human Rights, she is going to take on the extra burden of intrepreting and "selling" the activities of the UN to the American people.

"There's just so much real good being done at the working level in the United Nations which nobody seems to hear about," she explains. "All over the world living conditions are being improved as a result of activities of the various organizations of the UN.

"I know that if the American people were kept better informed of such things they would be more enthusiastic about America's participation in this organization, and would take more interest in it."

Mrs. Lord already speaks with an intimate, first-hand knowledge of many accomplishments. She has been active in several such groups working for child care and public health. She has traveled all over the world in behalf of those groups, especially for the UN's International Children's Emergency Fund.

Mrs. Lord studiously shies away from claiming that she's taking this new job "loaded for bear." Russian bear, that is. But she isn't the type to take a pushing around from anybody, lest of all mouthpieces of the Kremlin.

Just a cursory look at her frightening list of accomplishments, starting with a letter-writing campaign to Allied soldiers at the age of 10 during World War 1, makes it obvious why she was President Ike's first selection for this important post.

Those accomplishments include all kinds of social work, political activities in behalf of Wendell Willkie, Harold Stassen and other prominent Republicans, work on the UN's Food and Agricultural Organization and World Health Organization, and a key post with the National Health Council.

She's undismayed at the thought of becoming embroiled in the oft-criticized debating orgies of the UN. "I think a lot of arguing and debating is good because it gives everyone a chance to get things off their chests," she says. "It helps clear the air all around."

Friends, and people who have worked with her, make the case for Mrs. Lord's ability to weather Russian propaganda blasts.

"When those cold blue eyes of hers really begin to frost up and she gets that set, determined look, anybody who's trying to get away with anything better watch out," a friend says. "Anybody who tries to take advantage of her soon finds out what a jolting counter-attack she keeps hidden behind her seemingly placid exterior."

Friends predict it will not be long before Mrs. Lord becomes as well-known a personage in the U. S. and internationally as her predecessor, Mrs. Roosevelt.

MRS. OSWALD LORD

Despite her impressive list of rather un-feminine accomplishments, Mrs. Lord at 48 is very presentable and very feminine. She dresses stylishly, is charming and gets a kick out of parties.

A large dish of oatmeal for breakfast, washed down with numerous cups of tea, starts her day. "It keeps me going," she explains.

And "going" for her usually means answering eight or nine phone calls an hour, attending five or six meetings a day, having six or seven interviews, lunch and dinner with subcommittees, rushing back and forth between New York and Washington, and keeping up with world events.

She's a wife and mother, too. Her oldest son, Charles Pillsbury, is 19 and attends Yale; Winston, 15, is at Hotchkiss School in Connecticut. Her husband, Oswald Bates Lord, is a wealthy textile executive in New York.

She is the granddaughter of Charles A. Pillsbury, founder of the milling firm. She was graduated with honors from Smith College in 1927 and has been active in public affairs and social work ever since.

Japan Seeks Trade Pacts

Tokyo (AP)—The Japanese government is sending a trade mission to five Middle East nations to conclude trade agreements. The newspaper Asahi says the mission will seek to improve the presently dull trade situation by arranging pacts with Iran, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon and Turkey. Asahi says the government also will send a goodwill mission to Cuba to revise the existing agreement between the two countries.

Has 545 State Farms

Hong Kong (AP)—A total of 545 state farms comprising some 467,000 acres are now operating in Manchuria, the Red China News Agency reported recently.

BUOYING UP UNDER STRAIN Salvage workmen take to a breeches buoy to span the 200 yards from the shipwrecked Egyptian freighter Virginia, aground off the coast of the Isle of Wight. Shipping experts wrote the ship off as a complete loss, but one firm decided to make the salvage attempt. First a cargo of iron ore has to be unloaded, and then holes in the hull will have to be patched. Only then will an attempt be made to free the vessel.

Town Chairmen Named for County Heart Fund Drive

Abram F. Molyneaux, campaign chairman of the 1953 Heart Fund announced today that leaders of Kingston and Ulster county are now launching the greatest effort in history to fight diseases of the heart and circulation.

"The month of February has been set aside as Heart Fund Month. Molyneaux said. "Contributions in Ulster county will be used for further research, education, and community service.

"If we could persuade every man and woman to invest even a penny a day in heart research, our task would not only be lessened but many lives could be saved. Research has already been responsible for new drugs, new surgical procedures, new methods of procedure, care, and treatment, and rehabilitation which are saving many lives today.

"A year 'round health education program in heart disease is one of the county projects. A community service in Ulster county also provides free tests and procedures necessary in the diagnosis of heart disease for persons who are referred by their physician as in need of such service."

The slogan of this year's drive is: Help Your Heart Fund, Help Your Heart."

Heart Fund chairmen serving on the committee in Ulster county are:

Denning, Mrs. Harry Cole; Esopus, Mrs. Ernest Ryan; Gardiner, Floyd McKinstry; Hardenburgh, Mrs. Claude Haynes; Hurley, Mrs. William McNamee; Kingston, Cecelia Goldpaugh; Lloyd, Mrs. Harriet Alexander; Marbletown, Mrs. John Basten; Marlborough, Joseph J. Yalta Blast 'First Shot in New Offensive'

Eisenhower Denunciation May Give New Hope to Millions Enslaved by Russia

EDITOR'S NOTE: NEA's roving correspondent on the Iron Curtain front, currently in this country, interprets in the following dispatch the reaction to President Eisenhower's denunciation of Yalta and other secret agreements from the viewpoint of an authority on Russian affairs.

* * * *

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Special Correspondent

New York (NEA)—President Eisenhower's virtual denunciation of the Yalta agreement may give new hope to the millions enslaved by Russia in Eastern Europe—millions who long regarded the 1945 treaty as the instrument which first subjected them to Red domination.

It may well strengthen their resistance at the very moment when Moscow seeks to obliterate the last traces of satellite independence.

The President thus fired the first shot in the new psychological offensive against communism in his State of the Union message to Congress.

Between the West and Russia lie nine nations, once independent, but today entirely dominated by Moscow largely as a result of the Yalta agreement: Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania. They represent a population of more than 100 million Europeans.

The indulgence shown Russia by the U. S. and Britain during the 1945 negotiations at Yalta virtually gave Stalin the go-ahead signal to deprive these nations of their freedom.

The Yalta agreement—especially the secret clauses now repudiated by President Eisenhower—acknowledged in effect Russia's right to carve out for herself after the end of the last war a "sphere of influence" not only in Eastern Europe but also in Northern Asia.

The Kremlin agreed to help the Allies in the war against Japan—but for a stiff price. Stalin demanded, in addition to influence in Eastern Europe and the Balkans, the award of Japan's northern islands — the Kuriles and South Sakahlin—as well as a free hand in Outer Mongolia, Manchuria and other parts of China.

He thus prepared the ground for the war in Korea and Moscow's bid for a dominant position in Asia.

The late President Roosevelt and Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill accepted Stalin's terms — though they were met at the expense of our Chinese ally and without Chiang Kai-shek's knowledge or consent.

As part of the Yalta "bargain" the Russians also promised "full freedom" to the East European and Balkan nations that fell within their sphere. Like all Red commitments this agreement became a dead letter.

Even while President Roosevelt was reporting to Congress on March 1, 1945, on the "historic" achievements at Yalta, Romanian Communists with the help of the Red Army staged a bloody coup and overthrew the legal government of Romania.

The techniques employed by the Russians (under the cover of the Yalta agreement) to tighten their grip on the satellites varied.

Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, seized by Russia from the Germans during the war, were incorporated into the Soviet Union.

In the other satellites, the Kremlin set up governments of native Communists, who rule along Soviet lines imposed and supported by Russian military force.

The former U. S. administration upheld Yalta and the subsequent Potsdam agreement — which sanctioned the partitioning of Germany and made Russia ruler of the Eastern zone—on the ground that these agreements would have been justified had Stalin kept his end of the bargain.

But western experts on communism saw these agreements—as blunders that were largely responsible for America's postwar foreign policies.

In his message to Congress, President Eisenhower said his administration "recognizes no commitment contained in secret understandings of the past" with foreign governments.

"We shall never acquiesce in the enslavement of any people in order to purchase fancied gain for ourselves," the President declared. By repudiating Yalta, the President thus gave the anti-Communist world a fresh and clear-cut foreign policy. He also gained an important psychological victory in the cold war.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles believe that the free world should shift from the defensive to the offensive in the cold war—and thus make Moscow for once dance to the West's tunes.

They believe that intensified propaganda and psychological warfare could accomplish this—and thus lessen the chances of a global atomic war.

Radar Takes Care Of Night Planes

Seoul, Feb. 5 (AP)—Pilots of a radically new U. S. jet night fighter plane — the Skynight — have shot down red planes in Korea without even seeing them, the marine corps said today.

The new marine plane, the twin-jet F-3d built by Douglas Aircraft Co., made a secret appearance in Korea several months ago. It is equipped with an intricate radar system which locks the plane on a target in darkness.

The U. S. Air Force announced it also has a new jet night fighter with the same equipment operating in Korea, but did not identify the aircraft. The air force plane is credited with shooting down one propeller-driven monoplane and probable destruction of several others.

A leatherneck pilot who recently destroyed a Communist plane reported he didn't see the Red aircraft until it fell in flames from his machine gun bursts.

Red pilots who may have caught a glimpse of the Skynight never got back to tell about it, the marine corps said. Unofficial reports said the new jets have destroyed six night-flying Communist MIGs and one propeller-driven aircraft.

6,000 Tons of Honey

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP)—New York state bees produced nearly six thousand tons of honey last year, about 5 per cent more than in 1952, the state Crop Reporting Service said yesterday.

50 Are Burned In College Fire

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—At least 50 students were hospitalized today after a flash fire blasted into a classroom in the Lowell State Teachers College.

Hospitals reported that seven of the injured were in critical condition from burns.

The injured, including at least one male student, were taken to three hospitals. Many suffered only from shock but exact information on the injuries was not immediately available.

Spreads Upstairs

The flames spread quickly from a third floor stairway up through the roof and for a time it appeared the three-story brick structure might be doomed.

The injured girls were rushed to several hospitals and first reports said some were in critical condition.

The fire followed explosion of a workman's acetylene torch which was believed to have set off a tank containing more of the volatile gas.

Girls Are Suspended

Tokyo, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Tokyo Jogakkan, exclusive girls' high school, today suspended 44 Japanese students for getting permanent waves. Fifty-nine others were ordered to get letters of apology from their parents for the same offense. Principal Genichi Sawada said the penalties were proposed by the student council. He said permanent waves were banned "to nurture wholesomeness among the students and to avoid showiness which would make the girls susceptible to advances by delinquents."

LIFE SCOUT IN A IRON LUNG—Dr. John Affeldt, left, director of the Los Amigos Polio Center, and Robert Maxfield, right, Boy Scout field executive, congratulate Richard Ryman, 14, on becoming a Life Scout, the Boy Scouts of America's second highest award. A member of Troop 869, organized for polio patients, Robert has been in an iron lung since September, 1951.

Agents Say Mealey Jawbone Pieces Are Found Uptown

Joseph Stephano, local contractor, and his workmen today uncovered two pieces of jawbone during excavation work near the Old Senate House.

The relics, both containing teeth, were located about three feet beneath the surface of the ground between the Senate House and the Senate House Museum. At least one of the pieces appear to be from a human jaw.

The Stephano firm is excavating a trench between the museum and the Senate House for pipe lines as a part of the new heating system being installed by the state.

The bones will be inspected by Dr. Herbert Derman of the Kingston City Laboratory to determine whether or not they are from a human being.

CAPITAL BADGE — Intermediate Girl Scout Iris Wool, of New York, points to an enlarged replica of the Girl Scouts' new My Government merit badge. To be introduced March 12, in celebration of the organization's 41st birthday, it will be given for excellence in citizenship.

SHE'S IN THE CHIPS—Joan Gehan, 19, above, has been named "Miss Potato Chip of 1953." Choice of the Columbia University sophomore is appropriate, as she is an Indian, and legend has it that the first potato chips were manufactured by an Indian woman at Saratoga, N. Y., nearly a century ago.

OLGA ROESSLING

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roessling of Accord, announce the engagement of their daughter, Olga, to Kenneth Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stone of New York. The wedding will take place on Sunday, Feb. 22, in New York.

Coach House Players Will Be Host to NYS Theatre Association

The New York State Community Theatre Association has accepted the invitation of the Coach House Players to hold its annual conference in this city on May 23. The announcement was made by George Betts, director, at a meeting in the coach house Tuesday evening, when members were urged to assist in preparing for the conference.

Committee reports were submitted by Dorothy Buehring, Joan Woinoski, Tess Lloyd and Margaret Mellert, on make-up, publicity, program and refreshments.

The meeting was conducted by Irving Rose, president, who requested members to be at the coach house tonight to work on the stage set for the forthcoming production of The Willow and I. Applications for membership were submitted for approval.

An invitation to attend the lecture and painting exhibition scheduled at the Jewish Community Center on Sunday, was read.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Madeleine Reis and Margaret Mellert, to the unusually large attendance, including many visitors.

The entertainment program was directed by Rolf Wulff, chairman. It included charades prepared by Virginia Bagshaw. Shef Nasser's interpretation, delighted his team and opponents.

Sorosis Club Hears Story of Psalms and Their Meaning Today

The Psalms and Their Meaning Today, a book by Samuel Tierrien, was reviewed by Mrs. Theron Culver at a meeting of Sorosis in the home of Mrs. DeWeese DeWitt, Richmond Parkway, Monday afternoon.

The reviewer said, "The Psalms have a power of survival which is unparalleled in the spiritual life of the Western world. Composed in the near East over 25 centuries ago, they are still read or sung by Jews of all trends, and Christians of all denominations. The psalmists belonged to a nation born to be the servant of the Lord; and they bore the burden of that mission.

"What the psalmists said is particularly relevant today, for in times of cultural decay and of military disasters, they found that human existence in spite of its trials and madness, may become a wise, sound, and eminently worth-while experience.

Mrs. Culver, in her concluding remarks, quoted the author. "Intellectual honesty compels the modern Christian to admit that some of the poetry of the Psalms is aged and outdated. The Psalmist's faith unwittingly translated itself into theological certainties. While poets, they were profound theologians. They expected an age of universal peace based on brotherhood, not through man's scientific achievements but by God's redemptive grace. These poetic men of faith captured within their words, certain dimensions of truth and beauty which defy ordinary expression."

The next meeting of Sorosis will take place on Monday afternoon, Feb. 16. It will be a guest meeting.

Following the review and discussion, tea was served.

KC Has Large Class For Fourth Degree In New York, Feb. 8

Approximately 45 candidates members and guests of the Fourth Degree Assembly, Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, will travel to New York city, Sunday, Feb. 8, for the Fourth Degree Exemplification in the Hotel Astor.

Kenneth Clark, faithful navigator, requests that all candidates, traveling by bus, be at the Knights of Columbus home no later than 8:50 a. m. on Sunday. Candidates not using the bus, are asked to be at the Hotel Astor not later than 12:45 p. m. Others who will use the bus, must be at the Home by 9 a. m.

The canteen service will be directed by Mrs. William T. Hookey, who is forming her committee. This service includes fruit juice given before the blood donation is made, and sandwiches, cake and tea or coffee, following the donation. The group will also serve lunch to the Bloodmobile staff.

New Paltz Couple Celebrates Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Erastus DuBois Gerald of South Chestnut street, New Paltz, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon with an open house. More than 50 guests from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Highland, Clintondale and New Paltz attended the party given by the couple's daughters, Mrs. Christie K. Conklin of Poughkeepsie and Miss Myra Gerald of New Paltz.

Presiding at the tea table was Mrs. Harry Roosa of Clintondale, a sister to Mrs. Gerald, who was a member of the wedding party in 1903. She was assisted by Miss Dorothy Roosa and Mrs. Bernard U. Roach of Kingston, a sister to Mrs. Gerald.

The Geralds were married at Lloyd Feb. 3, 1903. The Rev. George M. Cranston, pastor of Lloyd and New Paltz Methodist Churches, officiated at the ceremony. During most of their married life, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald have resided in New Paltz, where he has been engaged in the plumbing business for 40 years.

SHOW A LITTLE BRAVERY

Dear Mrs. Post: One whose nerves are definitely upset, explains as follows: "The other evening, the husband of a woman with whom I work stopped at the office to pick her up and drive her home. As we live not too far from each other, they offered to drive me home. While this man was a skilled driver, he drove entirely too fast to please me and I was becoming a nervous wreck. When I couldn't stand it any longer, I asked him to drive more slowly. He did, but I think he resented my telling him how to drive very much. Will you please tell me if I was wrong, or should I have suffered in silence?"

Suffering in silence is a requirement that we all have to face at one time or another, and unless you knew the driver very well, it would have been best to say nothing, and should they again offer to drive you home, you would then make an excuse for not accepting.

Asking That Guests Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter will be married soon at a hotel in the evening. We would like very much to have all the guests wear evening clothes. Would it be proper to stipulate "evening dress" on the wedding invitations?

Answer: If most of your friends are unaccustomed to wearing evening dress, you certainly wouldn't want to eliminate any of them by making evening dress a stipulation. On the other hand, if they all have them and you merely want to be sure they wear them, it would be quite all right to stipulate "Evening Dress."

Lounging Clothes on Train

Dear Mrs. Post: Can you tell me whether on a streamlined coach train women are supposed to remain for the night in their traveling clothes, or is it permissible and customary for one to change into a house coat or other suitable lounging robe.

Answer: It is entirely proper, for those who would like to, to change into clothes that are more comfortable—if not too conspicuous.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. If your problem is what to wear to a wedding, you will find her leaflet E-6, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions," helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Health for All

CHILD AND NEPHROSIS

Most of us don't think of kidney disease as a childhood illness. Yet it does attack children, most often between the ages of two and four. It is not, of course, one of the more common children's diseases, but it is always serious and sometimes fatal.

Nephrosis is the general name for the kinds of kidney disease found among children. If discovered early, it can be successfully treated.

Its early symptons, however, are not easy to recognize and its exact cause is not fully understood. Nephrosis results usually when for some reason the child's body is not able to absorb protein and fat in the normal way. It is known that, if a child has nephrosis, tests show a lack of protein in the blood and an abnormal amount of protein in the urine. If this condition is not treated promptly, malnutrition and anemia may follow. If unchecked, the disease results in edema, or swelling, in certain parts of the body, caused by failure of the kidney to dispose of accumulated liquids properly. In severe cases, blood pressure goes up and the heart is affected. In these cases, the disease can be fatal.

By lowering the patient's resistance, nephrosis also leaves him open to attack by other diseases, such as pneumonia or influenza.

Early treatment can check nephrosis, usually with the assistance of modern drugs, and sometimes surgery. The disease may last from six months to two years, or longer.

Its earliest symptoms may be nothing more than loss of appetite, irritability, and lassitude. If these signs, not serious in themselves, continue for several days, the best course is to ask your doctor to make a thorough examination of your child, including blood and urine tests.

Other symptoms of early nephrosis include irregularity in your child's urinary habits, blood in the urine, puffy eyelids, swollen abdomen, feet, or ankles. If you spot any of these symptoms, do not hesitate in calling the doctor. Then follow the doctor's instructions.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health by the Ulster County Tuberculosis & Health Association, 74 John street.

EAT WELL for Less

Old, Honored Meal Is Hearty

THE TIME-HONORED DISH of sauerkraut and frankfurters is given a novel twist with green pepper, canned tomatoes and okra.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Sauerkraut and frankfurters is an old and honored combination. There's more to this good eating story—good nutrition, novelty and right now, both these foods are being featured generally as budget buys.

Creole Sauerkraut and Frankfurters

Two tablespoons bacon drippings or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion (chopped), 1 medium-sized green pepper (chopped), 1 No. 2 can sauerkraut, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon brown sugar, 1 cup canned okra, 1 pound frankfurters.

In a large heavy skillet, melt drippings or margarine over low heat. Add onion and green pepper; saute 5 minutes. Stir in sauerkraut, tomatoes and sugar; mix thoroughly. Add okra and mix lightly. Arrange frankfurters on top. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes. Serve piping hot.

Skillet Sauerkraut and Frankfurters
(Makes 4-6 servings)

Three slices bacon, diced, 2 medium-sized onions, sliced, 1 No. 2 can sauerkraut, 1½ cups canned tomatoes, 1 12-ounce package frozen lima beans (thawed), 2 teaspoons honey, ¼ teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper, ½ pound frankfurters, cut in fourths.

In a large skillet, fry bacon until crisp. Remove bacon. Add onions and saute until lightly colored. Gradually stir in sauerkraut, tomatoes, lima beans, honey, salt and pepper; mix thoroughly. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes. Add frankfurters and bacon. Cover and continue cooking 10-15 minutes, or until lima beans are done. Serve piping hot.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, scrambled eggs, enriched toast, butter or margarine, currant jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Canned tuna and peas on toasted English muffins, cabbage and apple salad, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Creole sauerkraut and frankfurters, mashed potatoes, rye bread, butter or margarine, pascal celery, raw carrot sticks, prune pie, coffee, milk.

Will Continue Survey On N. Y. Bus Service

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri disclosed yesterday that his Transit Advisory Commission has been authorized by the Board of Estimate to continue a survey to determine "whether or not there is a surplus of service" on city and private bus lines.

Impellitteri made his announcement after a two-hour executive session of the Board of Estimate in city hall.

It followed by a day a recommendation by the mayor's Committee on Management Survey that an immediate study of bus routes should be made.

The mayor's committee also recommended that the results of the proposed study by an independent agency should be available to the Board of Estimate before tax relief or other adjustments are made to eight private bus companies.

The bus companies have insisted that some relief is necessary if they are to grant the 40-hour week demanded by the Transport Workers Union, CIO.

Carved Eggs

Most peculiar item about the eggs of the Australian emu is the dark green surface. By cutting away the outer surface, a lighter shade is encountered, and this combination makes it possible to execute beautiful carvings thereon, much as a cameo is carved.

Not Always True

Although most trees show annual rings of growth when their trunks are sawed through, this is not true of some tropical evergreens.

New Jersey Group Asks Investigation Of Stamler Ouster

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 5 (AP)—The New Jersey Assembly wants an investigation of the dismissal of Nelson F. Stamler to be right out where everyone can see and hear it.

And it wants any such investigation to move right along.

The Assembly made this clear yesterday by amending a Senate resolution which would create a joint legislative committee to probe Stamler's dismissal. Stamler was fired last week as deputy attorney general in charge of a state probe of gambling in Bergen county.

The Senate resolution—sponsored by Alfred C. Clapp (R-Essex)—would have permitted the committee to hold private hearings and did not set any time limit for a committee report.

The Assembly—acting on recommendations of its Judiciary Committee—knocked out all authorty to hold private hearings and specified that the investigating body must make a preliminary report by March 16.

Assembly Majority Leader G. Clifford Thomas said he thought the amended version would be passed by the lower House Monday.

Points of Investigation

If the Senate concurs with the amendments, an eight-member committee will be created to investigate:

1. The circumstances surrounding Stamler's dismissal.
2. The administration of the attorney general's office.
3. Whether the New Jersey Law Enforcement Council should be separated from the State Department of Law and Public Safety.

Since the Clapp measure is a concurrent resolution, it does not need Governor Driscoll's signature to go into effect.

The Assembly, meeting without the Senate in session, whipped through a dozen bills in jig time.

No action was taken on matters such as reapportionment or a possible change in the date of the April 21 primary election.

Both Houses of the Legislature are slated to meet next Monday. The Senate at 2 p. m. and the Assembly an hour later.

U. S. Civil Workers Are Down 38,880

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) reported today that the number of civilian government workers dropped 38,880 for the first half of the present fiscal year, which started July 1.

He said the Dec. 31 total was 2,560,478, a decline of 5,129 from Nov. 30. That was the fifth consecutive monthly decline.

Byrd released the totals from reports supplied by 72 government departments and agencies to the Senate-House committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures, which he heads.

Byrd said the main decreases from November to December were in the Post Office, Agriculture and Army Departments.

Not Even Peanuts

St. Louis (AP)—The president of the Board of Aldermen, Charles Albanese, was discussing the mayor's $10,000 salary with the comptroller. Albanese had decided not to run for mayor because "I can make more than $10,000 selling peanuts."

Jeweler Is Booked On Larceny Charge

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Dante Brigliante, 50-year-old jeweler who last Saturday reported $100,000 worth of jewelry stolen from a public locker, was booked on a charge of grand larceny last night on complaint of another jeweler.

On Sunday, authorities recovered half of the gems in another coin-operated locker—the key to it being found in a police call box.

Brigliante postponed appearing at the property clerk's office from Monday until yesterday, when he went there accompanied by two attorneys.

Later, Brigliante was arrested on complaint of Michael Strauzer, a jeweler. Strauzer charged that Brigliante accepted $635 worth of merchandise, on consignment, last December and never returned the jewelry or paid for it.

Merchandise Involved

The merchandise involved, Strauzer said, was a handbag with a diamond clasp worth $125, a $35 pearl and a diamond ring, and a $475 diamond ring.

Police said Brigliante has a record of 13 other grand larceny arrests and one for petty larceny, but was discharged in all cases.

In 1949, they said, a charge was brought against Brigliante in Yonkers, accusing him of a Federal Gold Act violation. Police said that case still is pending.

Brigliante has given two addresses, at the Spencer Arms Hotel in Manhattan and 121 Primrose avenue, Fleetwood.

Man Found Slain

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—A Bronx man was found slain early today in a rear hallway of a Manhattan residential building, an ice pick in his heart. The victim was identified as James Doyle (1514 Metropolitan avenue, Parkchester), about 55, a clerk in the administrative aide's office at Columbia University. Doyle was married and had two children. The body was found following a telephone call to police by a woman resident of the building who said she heard a disturbance and moaning. Police were trying to establish a motive for the slaying.

As Pegler Sees It

concerned except those bosses and the political party which was their patron. He had little to say along these lines during the campaign and I lost some of my confidence in his statements at Roquancourt when I came upon a fawning speech which Ike had made at the convention of the CIO a few years before. But his declaration in the message that "slanted, partisan appeals to American workers, spoken as if they were a group apart, are an affront to their dignity as American citizens" revives my hope.

On the same occasion, Ike, a soldier all his adult life, agreed that the cost per soldier of maintaining conditions in our army, navy and air force abroad was grotesque. By competing with private civil employment we were pricing our defense forces right out of the market. As Ike has made good on other dramatic items of his bill of particulars after seeming to discard them, I look for some realistic discussion of these painful subjects, too.

I see some pushful individuals in Ike's immediate company. Clare Boothe Luce is a crasher without the slightest professional ability to qualify her as a consultant. Ike is entitled to his friends but this character is a dangerous woman who puts her own selfish interests above all others. She will make mischief if he lets her have her head, and he certainly doesn't need any service that she can give.

Connecticut Faces Increase in Taxes

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 5 (AP)—Connecticut taxpayers today had an idea from Gov. John Lodge of what may have to be done to take care of the state's financial affairs, which include an expected nine million dollar deficit.

If revenues continue as they are, and the budget of 249 million dollars for the 1953-55 biennium is approved, the state would be 38 millions in the hole, Lodge says.

After a meeting yesterday with Republican legislative leaders and state financial experts, Gov. Lodge said tax boosts are being considered.

An immediate tax increase, Lodge said, would wipe out the nine million dollar deficit which Republicans have said was caused by a Democratic-controlled senate in 1951.

Normally, any tax increase or new levy becomes effective with a new biennium. The present biennium ends on June 30, 1953.

But, Lodge said, still more revenues will be needed to take care of a 29 million dollar hole in the 243 million dollar budget for the new biennium.

"We're going to have to raise some taxes, all right," the governor said.

Men's Suit Production

New York (AP) — The men's clothing industry produced just under 19 million suits in 1952, according to Harry A. Cobrin, executive secretary of the Clothing Manufacturers Association. In 1951 the industry turned out 19½ million suits.

Attempts to collect taxes on whiskey led to the so-called "Whiskey Insurrection" in Pennsylvania in 1794 which was suppressed when President Washington sent troops.

Blue Devils Crack 'B' League Scoring Record in 108-93 Victory

Top KPA's Former High by Single Point Wednesday

Van Wagenen Scores 37 In YMCA Loop Game

From the sound of the score one would think it was a regularly scheduled National Basketball Association thriller played at the YMCA boards Wednesday night.

No, actually it wasn't the New York Knicks and Minneapolis Lakers throwing baskets all over the place.

The high-powered Blue Devils and the Accord Chevies quintets hooked up in a good old scoring orgy which finally turned into a new record for the books of Lou Schafer as the Devils hammered out a 108 to 93 victory.

The 108 points just nipped the former high scoring spree of the season formerly established by the KPA cagers.

It was just one of those nights, Schafer said this morning in describing the game. Spectacular shots from all corners and most of them went in," Schafer explained.

Van Wagenen Led Parade

Individual scoring honors for the night went to Hy Van Wagenen, forward for the Devils, who ripped the cords for 18 fields and one foul shot. His massive total nosed out George Sheeley of the Chevies who collected 35 for his club.

Three of the Blue Devils went over the double figures including Van Wagenen. Jerry Kaplan found the range for 32 markers while Bruce Hinkley hit for 23.

The "Big Three" for the losers were Sheeley with 35, John Gilleran 27 and Milford Ebert with 18.

The Blue Devils held a 25-21 edge at the first quarter and led by 49-41 at the halftime buzzer. They picked up three more points in the third quarter, outscoring their rivals by 28-25. The Devils topped their scoring period with a 31-point blast in the closing canto while the losers scored 27.

Woodstockers Triumph

In another wild-scoring game, Waterous Lumber Company of Woodstock led all the way in registering an 88 to 49 decision over Cerasaro Brothers.

Big guns for the winners were John Gossman and Bruce Waterous, each collecting 25 points while Joe Hilton paced the squad with 26. Joe Gardiner, Jack Hickey and Jack Graney bucketed 15, 13 and 10 in that order.

Last night's contest was one of the best turned in by the Woodstock cagers. Their rugged 2-1-2 defense against Cerasaros was stiff and the latter was forced to make most of their shots from the outside.

Is Signed for Vejar

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Vinnie Martinez, boxing's "Rookie of the Year" for 1952, was matched for a 10-round welterweight bout with Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., March 13 at Madison Square Garden. Martinez, a handsome youngster from Paterson, N. J., whipped Carmine Fiore last Friday in a 10-round Garden bout. Vejar, touted as a "boy wonder" until he ran into Chuck Davey, stopped Italo Scortichino of Italy in the fourth round at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway; Jan. 19.

The Aged Trotter of 1952 was Star's Pride, 5-year-old son of Worthy Boy. Pronto Don was tied for second in the voting with Chris Spencer. Yankee Hanover was third.

Ott Retires From Baseball

Mel Ott, former New York Giants manager-outfielder and recently manager of Oakland in Pacific Coast League, bends over drawing board in New Orleans office of Milan Engineering Co., as he checks figures on a set of construction plans. Ott recently announced his retirement from baseball after 24 active years in order to devote his entire time to the construction business. (AP Wirephoto).

Yanks Face Salary Balks Despite Top Payroll Pot

Berra, McDougald Only Regulars Signed

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees have close to a million dollars they're ready to ladle out in salaries—the largest payroll pot in baseball history—but no club is having more trouble getting its employes under contract.

The players' theme song seems to be: "No, gimme more."

"You don't realize what a problem it is to sign up a ball club that has won four straight world championships," said George Weiss, general manager of the Yankee empire and the man with the chronic winter headache.

"I don't think there's an organized holdout campaign or anything like that. Each of these fellows figures he was greatly instrumental in our success and he wants his reward on the pay check."

The Yankees have signed only two of their regulars for the 1953 season while most other clubs are announcing signings in clusters. The Brooklyn Dodgers, the Yankees' victims in the World Seris, for instance, have signed all of their players.

The two Yankee regulars who have come to terms are catcher Yogi Berra, who signed for a reported $40,000, a $5,000 raise, and infielder Gil McDougald, who signed for what's believed to be around $20,000.

Reynolds Still Balks

Allie (Big Chief) Reynolds, who has had two successive tremendous years with the world champions, failed to get any satisfaction in his second conference with Roy Hamey, assistant general manager who does the Yankee negotiating. He left town unsigned.

The Oklahoma City righthander, who had a 20-8 record last season and 17-8 the year before, is said to be demanding at least a $7,000 raise over the $35,000 he collected in 1952. That would be approximately the salary paid Vic Raschi, who also is asking a hike for his 16 pitching victories last season.

The Yankees must come to terms with lefty Ed Lopat, a reliable veteran; Whitey Ford, who is returning from the service; Bob Kuzava, Tom Morgan and others.

Also yet to be dealt with across the bargaining table are young Mickey Mantle, the 1952 World Series hero, and his outfield mates, Hank Bauer and Gene Woodling; Big John Mize, the slugging first baseman; infielders Phil Rizzuto, Billy Martin and others.

Mize Against Slash

Reports have the 40-year-old Mize balking at a 20 per cent slash in salary. He is insisting on a carbon copy of his last season's contract, which called for $20,000.

"I can't for obvious reasons, say what our payroll will be this year," said Weiss. "But it's tremendous. You can safely say it's the largest we've ever had.

"If we said what our payroll amounted to, we'd have the players wanting to split it up 25 ways, or so. Sometimes, it's hard for a fellow to realize that length of service and other factors have to be taken into account."

A few years ago a congressional committee revealed the Yankees' payroll as $660,000. It's known the figure has grown substantially every year since, despite the departure of $90,000-a-year Joe DiMaggio.

"We have three very well-paid coaches (Jim Turner, Frank Crosetti and Bill Dickey) and our manager is doing all right," Weiss said.

The manager, Casey Stengel, signed a contract before he left for California in the fall. He hinted his salary was "around $100,000."

Chisox Sign Fain To Record Terms

Chicago, Feb. 5 — (AP)—Ferris Fain, two-year American League batting champion, today became perhaps the highest paid player ever signed by the Chicago White Sox, reportedly coming to "happy" terms for more than $30,000.

Recently-acquired first sacker Fain, who earned a reported $28,500 last season with the Philadelphia Athletics, needed just a two-minute phone conversation with Sox General Manager Frank Lane to agree on a 1953 contract.

Fain led the American loop with a .327 batting average after winning the 1951 crown with .344. He was the sixth American League batter ever to win two or more successive titles.

Olson Out Of Running For Title

Boston, Feb. 4 (AP)—The scramble for Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated middleweight title took on the aspects of a soap opera today with Carl (Bobo) Olson's withdrawal from an elimination tournament designed to find a new champion.

The Hawaiian boxer is the No. 1 American contender, but last night he said he wants no part of the tourney — arranged by the powerful National Boxing Association and the New York State Athletic Commission.

Olson meets 21-year-old Norman Hayes of Boston Saturday night in a nationally-televised (ABC, 9 p. m. EST) 10-rounder in Boston Garden.

Both Hayes and Olson were on the list of American contenders slated for the NBA's elimination series and this fight was to have been the second clash of that series.

Opener Friday

The opener is tomorrow night's Madison Square Garden bout between Pierre Langlois of France and Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa. The victor was to have met Ernie (The Rock) Durando of Bayonne, N. J. with that winner taking on the Hayes-Olson winner. A flock of other fighters also are on the elimination list.

Former champion Randy Turpin of England and France's Charles Humez are in the European phase of the eliminations.

But Olson—the "leading man" of the drama and practically the only top contender not controlled by the International Boxing Club—won't even try to make the division limit of 160 pounds for Hayes. That automatically rules him out of the tournament.

Quick Takes: Vince Martinez's boxing style is highly reminiscent of the technique used by Kingston's one-time "Golden Boy" of boxing. Meaning, Nick Zinna, of course. Left hand low, fancy footwork and machine-gun bursts of leather.

You often wonder why those fellows don't get their blocks knocked off, but the secret of their defense is matchless timing. They violate the fundamentals of boxing principles and get away with it.

• Flotsam and Jetsam

The proposal by that Albany legislator to eliminate the referee in an official boxing decision is the silliest suggestion since the hulabaloo created by Commissioner Bob Christenberry's reversal of the Billy Graham-Joe Giardello decision. More than often the referee's decision is what restores sanity to almost impossible differences of opinion between judges' cards. The real solution, we repeat, is to eliminate the judges and make the referee the sole arbiter.

Furthermore, it sems to us that eliminating the judges would remove suspicions of collusion and skullduggery from decisions. Also, why aren't the TV cameras pin-pointed on the judges? Who are they and what manner of men are these who create so much consternation among fighters and fans alike. Boxing is the only sport we know that hides its officials (except the referee) from the fans' view. In most other sports they are out in full view of the spectators.

While on boxing, it seems to us that few championship bouts in recent years have created so much comment and differences of opinion as the forthcoming Kid Gavilan-Chuck Davey skirmish on Feb. 11. In barber shops, lunch counters and taverns, wherever boxing fans gather, that's the topic of the day. Davey will have heavy sentimental support across the nation but only the Gavilan rooters are willing to back up their opinion with negotiable currency.

• Of Men and Mice:

Pete Spader, a former City League tenpin star at St. Peter's, is essaying a comeback in the Jacobson Mixed League. P. Joseph Beichert, the "Pop" Morgenweck historian chides us for referring to the "Artus" brothers. Of course there was only one Artus, George. The two brother combinations who belonged with the Kingston team were Carlie and Mickey Husta and Charlie and Artie Powers. As for Brother P.J., let's try to inveigle him into composing a tome on an imaginary game between the "all stars" of his period and, let's say, an NBA all-star roster like George Mikan, Easy Ed Macauley, Paul Arizin, Bob Davies, Bob Cousy and Joe Fulks. City Minor League keglers refer to Harry and Lou Secreto as "The Mailmen." Nothing has stopped them from keeping their Monday night dates in the CML in the last four years. And when Harry recently underwent an appendectomy a few days ago, he had his wife call his team captain a half hour before the match. He wouldn't be there but he'd be thinking of the gang . . . minus his appendix.

The excellent officiating of Frank "Bing" Van Etten and John Gilligan, of the KHS coaching staff, drew high praise from fans and players alike in the Harry's Angels-Wiltwyck Motors first round playoff last Saturday at the YMCA. Bill Domaldson of Milton filmed the exciting picture of an actual deer hunt with bow and arrow shown to members of the Kingston Archery Club at their meeting last night. Don Wood, the club's range captain, says the club is anxious to hear from all experienced archers. John Burris and Jim Sass of the 50 Club basketball squad played their last YMCA game Saturday and are heading for Uncle Sam's khaki. The young men were given a rousing sendoff by more than 100 fans when introduced by Lou Schafer.

A GROWING BOY: Like Topsy, Walter Dukes jes' grows and grows.

Now 6 feet 11, the Seton Hall basketball star might reach seven feet before the season is over.

Dukes was 6 feet 7 when he graduated from high school. He has grown an inch a year since coming to Seton Hall, and now calls himself, "6-11 and something."

Tribe Signs Rookie

Cleveland, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians announced today they had signed Richard Patrick Wehman, an 18-year-old shortstop who attended General Manager Hank Greenberg's high school in New York, James Monroe High of the Bronx. The Tribe said he was signed to a contract with their Class D farm at Green Bay, Wisc.

Ez Is Impressive In Sixth Victory

Detroit, Feb. 5 (AP) — Ezzard Charles and the fans agree today: The former heavyweight champion's sixth straight comeback victory was his most impressive.

Since losing the title to Jersey Joe Walcott, Charles had plodded past Bernie Reynolds, Cesar Brion, Frankie Buford, Jimmy Bivins and Wes Bascom —none of them world-beaters— in so-so fashion.

Then came young Tommy Harrison last night, and, being a ranking light-heavy, he was supposed to give Charles his toughest test of all.

But after eight rounds of pummeling, Harrison stumbled back to his stool for a quick freshening-up. His manager, George Parnassus, took one look at Tommy and called it quits. So it went into the record as a ninth-round TKO under Michigan rules.

Big Day for Sharman

Brooklyn, Feb. 5 (AP)—It was a big day all around yesterday for Bill Sharman, the versatile athlete who plays pro basketball in the winter and pro baseball in the summer. The "summer" Sharman sent his signed contract to the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday and the "winter" Sharman scored 32 points in Boston last night to lead the Boston Celtics to a 105-92 basketball victory over Syracuse in the NBA.

The West Virginia football team gained an average of five yards every time it carried the ball this season. They limited opponents to only 2.5 yards per carry.

ManhattanPinboys Rout Catskill Five

Sweeping three straight games with a powerful 2554 series, the Manhattan Balls of Kingston trounced the Catskill Pinboys by 342 pins in the first block of a home and home match on the Bowlodrome drives.

M. Kahrs and Rudy Hohenberger sparked the locals with 567 and 555 and Fred Schryver rapped 500. Kahrs' 202 was high single for the match. Heath of Catskill shot 582 and Kelly had 201.

Heins Hits 678 Triple, Highest of His Career

Mannello's 257 Is New CYO-Holy Name Record

Stacking solid counts of 225 and 257 around a 196 middle effort, Eddie Heins spearheaded the Central Rec Major League pin-busting mart Wednesday night with a hefty 678 series, the highest of his young bowling career.

Ten assorted 600 blasts featured the heavy pinning in the Major circuit paced by Heins' 678 score.

Elsewhere in local bowling circles last night, Joe Mannello established a new individual single score for the CYO-Holy Name League at the Bowlodrome with an opening game mark of 257. Mannello added counts of 182 and 201 for a league-leading 640 three-timer.

In the distaff department, Helen Sutton, who currently holds the No. 1 position in the "B" Division of the KWBA's tournament all-events with a 1450 score, continued her nifty bowling by firing 481 to lead the Chalet Pioneer Women's wheel at the Chalet drives. Her scores were 146-169-166.

Manfro Posts 648

Charlie "Juice" Manfro, veteran tenpin thumper, held down second place in the Central Rec Major firing last night with a solid 648 score. Manfro opened with 257 and finished with 224.

The heavy 600 barrage also included Tommy Carlino with 214-225-638; Dick Howard 209-236-637; Herb Van Deusen the hat trick of 211-212-200 for 623; Ross Ellis, another hat trick effort of 203-209-204 for 616; Elwood Robinson 246-610; George Shufeldt 225-608; Cliff Davis 206-204-602 and George "Curly" Flemings 215-226-602.

Also of note in the top 500 class were H. Myers 213-592; Mitzie Arlensky 221-588; Bill Lawrence 217-581; "Tazz" Spada 233-557; Bill Schabot 553 and Larry Weishaupt 550.

Jack's Still Lead

Jack's Restaurant still lead the Pontiacs by 1½ games despite a three-game loss to Hymes Shoes last night. Pontiacs salvaged two of their games with Mickeys. Hymes Shoes topped the team scores last night with a 1040 singleton and 2993 series. Old Caps fired 1028-1009 for 2913.

Team Results

Quality Maple 3, Alpine 0; Hymes Shoes 3, Jack's Rest 0; Old Capitals 2, Welch's Grocery 1; Pontiacs 2, Mickeys 1.

Following Joe Mannello's top score of 640 in the CYO last night came John Sweeney with another neat 600 on a 212 single and 606 series.

The rest of the top honors went to Bob Henry with 212-572; Joe Mahar 548; Pete Tatarzewski 541; Vince Noble 203-536; Pat DeCicco 209-522 and Ed Lukas 519.

One of the highlights of the night was the conversion of the tough 6-7-10 split of Nick Reis, Sr.

Elsewhere in the Chalet Pioneer Women's circuit this week, trailing Helen Sutton's 481, came Dolores Freese with 456; Kathleen Houska 454; June Van Kleeck 451; Charlotte Gray 435; Dolores Bailey 429; Livia Tenedini 424; Dolores Joyce 418; Alice Zimmer 415 and Gertrude Ritter 410.

At the end of the fourth round, Moylan's Funeral Home holds down first place with a record of 42 wins and 24 losses. Demarest Flames are second with 37-29.

Team results:

Demarest Flames 3, Moylans 0, by forfeit; Snyder's Chicks 2, Towne Shoppe 1; Gilmartin Lunch 2, Century Cement 1.

Fritzi Davis string of 184-158-167 for 509 topped the pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League at tse Bowlodrome Wednesday night.

Others of note were Nancy Hussey with 480; Nell Glennon 476; Shirley Buckman 458; Peggy Duffy 456; Dottie LaRocca 447; Rita Amarello 445; Elma MacElveen 435; Carol Marks 435 (she also converted the 6-7-10 split); Betty Bailey 434 and Betty Shipman 432.

Team results:

Silsby Motors 2, Jump's Market 1; Greyvan Lines 2, Doblers 1; Jones Dairy 3, DeLuca Cleaners 0; Herzogs 3, Stone Ridge 0; Smith Parish 2, Geraldine Shop 1; Carnrights Dairy 3, Worfs 0.

Krom Tops Chalet

H. Krom led the Chalet Leaders this week with 530 series on games of 176, 181 and 173. Runnerup Rocky Tenedini powered 528, W. Fatum 526, Segelken 526, Leroy Constant 523, R. Esposito 514; Carlton Reilly 507; Hokie Rask and Clary Buddenhagen 501 and W. Parker 500.

Van Kleeck's hold a one-game edge over Yonetti's and Aqueduct the end of the second round of play, with 37½ wins and 28½ losses.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

Trout Prefer Red Corks

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

California biologists have proved the old tale about trout and color. They've discovered the hungry trout prefer red food.

Trying to make a new food pellet for hatchery use, they experimented with colored corks. The white, yellow, blue and green corks drew little interest from the trout, but a red cork brought strike after strike. Or so it is reported.

Fact is that this information isn't much good unless you're one of those sports who follows hatchery trucks. If so, I'd suggest that you throw a handful of pebbles on the water before you make a cast and simulate hatchery feeding procedure.

Nine times out of 10 a slow retrieve with frequent pauses will take the most bass. On the 10th time, however, it won't catch a fish, and then fast reeling is necessary.

An angler is hopelessly handicapped if he sticks to any one method all the time. All of us are inclined to keep using the system that has paid off most frequently in the past. Often we would catch many more fish if we forgot all about what we have done before. Then we would feel free to experiment with new methods which might be more effective.

It is always a good idea to try various retrieves when one starts fishing. When you get a strike, continue using the one that paid off as long as it will take fish. When the action slows down, try something else.

Good tackle is much more fun and will give better results than poor equipment, and every fisherman should use the best he can afford. If you can't afford an expensive outfit, however, don't feel unduly handicapped. Catching fish depends about 90 per cent on the man and 10 per cent on the tackle.

A note in my desk reminds me to tell somebody about brook trout and sunlight. They avoid it like the plague. Rainbow trout are sun-worshippers, but you couldn't sell the brookie a drop of suntan lotion.

Our native trout is strictly a frequenter of dark' plaves, like under beaver dams, cut banks, or rocks if there's nothing else available. Keep that in mind when you're fishing for them and you'll get more fish.

A fellow asked me the other day how a fish drinks. I told him

it's the salt-water fish who do the drinking; fresh water fish just absorb water through their skin. The salt-water fish have to drink because salt water is a stronger solution than the fish's blood and it keeps the water already in the salt-water fish from getting back into the ocean. Without slime, the fresh water fish would become water-logged while the salt-water fish would dry out.

Sharks and rays are like fresh-water fish—they absorb water directly through the skin, as their blood is stronger than sea water.

Pittsburgh Group Offered Saigh's Cardinal Holdings

Pittsburgh, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Post Gazette said today represetnatives of Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, have offered Saigh's majority holdings in the National League club to a Pittsburgh Syndicate for $4,250,000.

The Post Gazette said the syndicate was headed by Charles Morris, prominent Pittsburgh realtor and president of the General Wrecking Co.

The paper said Morris declined to identify other members of the syndicate but quoted him as saying:

"We are just in the talking stage. I don't know whether anything will come of this or not but there will have to be plenty of negotiating and a thorough investigation of the St. Louis club's holdings before we talk in terms of buying."

Saigh announced he would sell his baseball stock shortly after his recent sentencing to 15 months in prison for income tax evasion.

Foreign-bred horses from four nations are among the nominees for Hialeah's $50,000 McLennan. One of they, Payucano, will be flown from Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Eden, Butler Will Visit U. S.

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Britain's Foreign Minister Eden and Chancellor of the Exchequer Butler will come here next month for an "exchange of views" with officials of the Republican administration, the State Department announced today.

Press Officer Michael J. McDermott said Secretary of State Dulles extended the invitation during his visit to London yesterday.

McDermott said Dulles and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey will meet for "a few days" early in March with Eden and Butler to take up "matters discussed at the recent Commonwealth economic conference."

McDermott announced, too, that:

"There is no intention at this stage to negotiate any agreements."

The Washington meetings, McDermott said, will involve "an informal and preparatory exchange of views."

120 Are Rescued

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, Feb. 5 (AP)—A motor ship chartered by the Associated Press for flood news coverage rescued 120 flood victims who had been stranded four days on the twin islands of Goeree-Overflakkee. The group taken aboard the vessel Vondelingenplaat last night included 20 small children and 20 women made homeless when the North Sea burst through dikes near Ollitgensplaat. They were taken to Rotterdam and given emergency treatment for exposure. Some victims remained behind on the island because they could not reach the impromptu rescue ship.

Mercury Is 30 Below

Moscow, Feb. 5 (AP)—The mercury dropped to 30 degreees below zero in Moscow today and school children were told they need not attend classes.

Dutch Says Cash Is Urgent Need

New York, Feb. 5—Dutch officials said today that money rather than food or clothing is the urgent need to cope with the flood ravages in Holland.

They said immediate needs of survivors in the stricken areas already were being met largely by Holland itself and "spontaneous help" from Americans and the people of neighboring countries.

But they said from one to two billion dollars was needed to repair public utilities and to rebuild dykes, schools and homes.

Holland Flood Relief, Inc., was established today at 74 Wall street, New York city, to accept monetary contributions to meet this cost.

A spokesman for the relief fund said clothing, blankets and food should not be sent to that address.

The sending of such articles, as distinct from money, was being handled by other organizations.

Offers to Take Goods

The Holland-American Steamship Line offered to transport without cost packages of relief goods to be distributed by the Netherlands Red Cross flood relief.

The receiving point for the packages is the Holland-American Line pier in Hoboken, N. J. The line said the articles should be packed in wooden boxes or strong cartons.

However, parcels of relief goods addressed to specific relatives or friends of the senders must be shipped as regular freight.

A Dutch Airlines plane took off from Idlewild Airport at 11 a. m. today for Amsterdam with the first major load of relief supplies.

Blankets Are Shipped

The shipment, weighing 3,000 pounds, included hundreds of blankets contributed by CARE, (Cooperative for American Remittances) Inc. CARE said donations could be sent to its office at 20 Broad street, New York city, or to its other offices in major American cities.

American Airlines offered to fly free to New York flood relief packages from any of its stops in the United States. From New York, the Dutch Airline will carry the packages to Holland.

National Airlines also announced it was flying package contributions free to New York. It emphasized it could accept no money donations.

An American Airlines spokesman said his line was considering the possibility of helping to fly the articles to Holland if the accumulation became too large for the Dutch Airline to handle.

To Hold Conferences

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The White House said today that President Eisenhower will begin holding regular news conferences next week. The date of the first one since the inauguration has not been set definitely but indications were the conferences would be held on Thursdays. That is the same day on which former President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman normally met with newsmen.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

By MRS. WILLIAM JAY

Polio Drive Falls Behind Estimates

New Paltz, Feb. 5—George Wicks, chairman of the March of Dimes for the Town of New Paltz, said that the drive has not been concluded. It is running behind last years contribution when an increase had been expected and hoped for. Of the 600 folders mailed to the rural area, only 66 have been returned and two were mailed back with three cents postage due on them.

Six or seven of the solicitors have not completed their canvases. The business men's contributions have not been turned in as yet. The coin boxes are all in he said. One was returned with only seven cents. The best is the one from the New Paltz Diner where transients helped add to the New Paltz fund.

Wicks said he was disappointed in the results and couldn't account for the lack of support, especially since the surrounding towns are reporting successful campaigns. He said that the Mothers March on Polio Jan. 29 in Saugerties was reported to have netted $1,200.

WSCS Group to Hold Meeting on Feb. 11

New Paltz, Feb. 5—The WSCS will meet Wednesday, Feb. 11, 8 p. m. in the special room of the Methodist Church. The meeting was postponed from the regular time due to conflicting activities in the church.

Mrs. Walter Dyer and Mrs. Alvin Beatty will be in charge of the program which is on Home Missions and Human Rights. Mrs. Herbert Phillips will lead the devotions.

The World Day of Prayer will be Feb. 20 at the Methodist Church this year. Two members of the WSCS will be appointed to serve on the committee with two from the Episcopal and Reformed Churches.

Methodists Make Plans For Laymen Day Service

New Paltz, Feb. 5 — Local Methodists from New Paltz, Lloyd and Plutarch attended a Laymen's Rally in Newburgh Feb. 4 at St. John's Methodist Church. Laymen from the surrounding area met for dinner and an inspirational meeting. Laymen's Sunday in New Paltz is Feb. 15. This is the day the pulpit will be occupied by the laymen in the church who will conduct the services. There will be a men's chorus and special music by a men's quartet. Highland also will observe Laymen's Day Feb. 15.

The speakers at the Newburgh meeting were Bishop Frederick B. Newell of the New York Area, Paul B. Russell of New York, the conference lay leader and George M. Northrup of Newburgh. Raymond Hasbrouck is the New Paltz lay leader. Fifteen men attended the dinner from New Paltz. About 175 attended from the Newburgh District.

To Meet Sunday

New Paltz, Feb. 5—The Eendracht Club of the Reformed Church will meet Sunday, Feb. 8. Plans are made to welcome any new freshmen and upper classmen with a lively game night. The second semester programs will include a film, Again Pioneers and other interesting subjects and religion question box.

Friday, Feb. 6, the Mary Beattie Circle will meet with Mrs. I. C. Barnes. A film strip, My Name Is Pablo, will be shown. The Circle purchased this film for the church school. The meeting is called for 3 p. m.

Men Are Guests

New Paltz, Feb. 5—The Study Club had a buffet chicken supper at the Reformed Church Tuesday and invited the men. This took the place of the regular February meeting. No business meeting was held. Dr. Heinz Meng presented his films on Birds of Prey as the program. Mrs. Gerret Wullschleger was reception chairman and Mrs. Richard Hoppenstedt was supper chairman. About 90 persons were in attendance.

Fluoride Dental Treatment Ended

New York, Feb. 5—Not so many years ago the school's only function in the community was to present to the children a pre-fabricated program of reading, writing and arithmetic.

Today, educators recognize that there are many factors involved in preparing a child for a fuller enjoyment of life, not the least of which is the physical health and growth of the individual. This year the school system has repeated the sodium fluoride treatment to provide children with the benefits of the most modern development in dental science.

Carefully supervised tests seem to prove that this treatment is of definite value in reducing dental decay. Research has established that fluoride applications can reduce cavities by 40 per cent.

Fluoride treatments have been concluded at the Campus school by Mrs. Carol Marshal, dental hygienist. They were given to second, fifth, and eighth grade students. These grades have been selected because by the time they reach the second grade, children have gotten their six-year molars; by the fifth grade, their premolars; and by the eighth grade, second molars have appeared.

The treatment itself consists of a complete prophylaxis-cleaning, polishing and removing any deposit on the surface of the teeth. When this is done, the first topical application of two per cent sodium fluoride is made to a completely dry tooth surface.

At this time the nurse discusses diet with the children and often gives toothbrushing instruction. The second and third treatments are a repeat topical application of the sodium fluoride. This leaves a hard coating on the enamel of the teeth which helps to prevent dental cavities.

Reading Aides Will Be Discussed Tuesday

New Paltz, Feb. 5—How children are taught to read will be the subject of Dr. George Bond at the all-school parent's meeting in the Campus Elementary school, Tuesday, Feb. 10.

Dr. Bond, director of the recently-established reading clinic, will answer such questions as: Why doesn't the Campus school teach reading to five-year-olds? Are phonics taught there? Should children read comics? Do the students learn sound study habits? Do children spell as well today as they did in years past?

Lee Keator, program chairman, urges all room representatives to remind the parents of their group of the event. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in the music room.

Wedemeyer Says Mac Vindicated

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer (Ret.) said today that President Eisenhower's removal of the Formosa naval blockade is "a step toward vindication of MacArthur's policies which got him fired."

Wedemeyer added at a news conference, however, that he did not attach "a great deal of importance" to the removal of the blockade.

The retired general served on Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur's staff during World War 2.

Expressing the opinion that the Soviet Union is unprepared for war, Wedemeyer said, "I would say that if the Soviet Union starts an all-out war they're going to lose it."

Wedemeyer said he was opposed to the United States becoming involved in "an all-out war in Asia." This country, he said, should "help people help themselves, but rely on Asian troops in Asia rather than jeopardize the U. S. economy and its manpower."

Y.M.C.A. News

The Cashin High School Dance Class got underway Wednesday with a good attendance. Among those present were Ellen Marchetti, Harriet Konjas, Elizabeth Brown, Mary Sagendorf, Agnes Geary, Jacquelyn Craft, Doreen Moore, Bob Baily, Kenneth Pangburn, Tom Davitt, Joe Cornelski, John Steenburgh and Peter Cain. There is still room for all high school students who wish to join but all should sign up now with the Y Youth director. The dance class is held every Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. until 9:15 a. m., during the high school student activity hour. It is an interesting educational course of 10 lessons covering all the better accepted forms of ballroom dancing. All high school boys and girls are welcome.

More than 150 persons attended the regular Y Saturday night dance and enjoyed the many varieties of square and ballroom dancing offered under the direction of Jim Goines and his orchestra.

Former Judge Dies

Newport, R. I., Feb. 5 (AP)—Edgar Morris Phelps, 76, former New York judge and one-time member of the Middletown, R. I., Town Council died at his home today. He was a nationally known pigeon fancier and often judged New York shows.

Will Cap Two Wells

Morgan City, La., Feb. 5 (AP)—Firefighters prepared today to cap two wide-open offshore gas wells and halt the flow of natural gas. Mansel Rake and his boss, Myron Kinley, both of Houston, Texas, directed workers in constructing the catwalks, shields and a long boom with an open valve attached which Rake will use to cap the wells. The two wells are located on a platform built in the Gulf of Mexico 36 miles south of Morgan City, 10 miles off shore. They burned for 10 days, spewing white-hot flames 100 feet in two directions and causing a multi-million-dollar damage before Rake and Kinley succeeded in putting them out.

Fire Scare Reported

Steam coming from the new branch post office building on Main street caused a fire scare early today. Firemen were called at 12:27 a. m., and reported that the steam came from the building as workmen were force-drying plaster.

The private branch telephone system in Washington's Pentagon building is the largest of its kind in the world.

President Gives Up Claims on Money

San Francisco, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower voluntarily placed his financial assets in an irrevocable trust fund to prevent any charge that they might influence his presidential decisions, reports his wartime aide.

Capt. Harry Butcher, USNR, told the San Francisco Advertising Club yesterday that Eisenhower told him last December:

"On the advice of my legal staff I have had to create an irrevocable trust so the charge cannot be made that my holdings influenced any White House decisions."

Butcher said part of the trust was money from the sale of an oil well, which would have paid more if held "two or three weeks" longer. He said Eisenhower did not wait.

Butcher, president of radio station KIST in Santa Barbara, explained that an irrevocable trust is one in which the money is used by the trustee without consulting the endower. Eisenhower gave up all claims on the money, other than to receive income from its use, he said.

In Washington, the White House declined to provide any details on the trust. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters there was no comment on "any of the private, personal matters of the President."

Banana Split Salad

Youngsters usually enjoy a Banana Split Salad. To prepare it arrange two banana halves on a lettuce leaf, put a mound of creamed cottage cheese on each banana half, and top with a little canned crushed pineapple and a maraschino cherry.

Poaching Eggs

It's not necessary to add salt or vinegar to the water when you are poaching eggs. Just slip the eggs into water that is simmering in a skillet, keep the water at that temperature, and cook three to five minutes — depending on how firm you want the eggs.

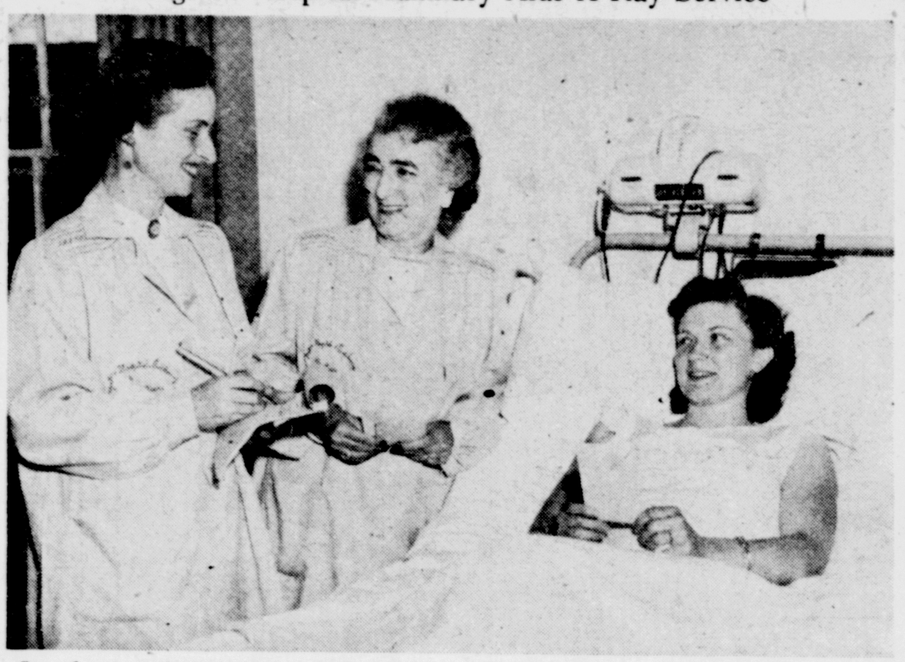
Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Aids X-Ray Service



One of many volunteer services performed by the Women's Auxiliary at Kingston Hospital, concerns X-ray patients. Members record preliminary information and transport wheel chair and stretcher patients to the X-ray room. Mrs. N. LeVan Haver and Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., on duty Wednesday afternoon, record data given by patient, Mrs. Coleen Joy.

Proceeds from the Auxiliary's annual dance in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel are used for the comfort and welfare of patients at the hospital. This year's dance will take place on Saturday when Larry Bloom and his orchestra will provide the music. A fine program of entertainment will be presented. Mrs. Fred Carr and Mrs. Timothy House are co-chairmen. (Freeman photo)
